5 Taverns Raided On Liquor Counts In Hancock County

$300 Fine Imposed On Bar's Operator After Guilty Pleas

In an apparent crackdown on illegal activities, West Virginia State Police and Hancock County sheriff's deputies hit five taverns over the weekend and cited the operators on liquor and gaming charges.

Three of the taverns raided by law enforcement agencies are in the Chester area, while the other two are in Weirton.

State Police from Weirton raided four establishments and confiscated a quantity of liquor and two slot machines in one. Sheriff's deputies seized whisky and gin in their one raid.

State Police said today the citations were made during routine policing of county taverns inspected over the weekend and were not part of an organized campaign.

Neither agency indicated the arrests were made in connection with the meeting of the January Grand Jury Tuesday morning in New Cumberland.

Sheriff's deputies hit the Cactus Bar on Route 30 Sunday afternoon at 5:35 after a member of Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny's staff had purchased whisky at the oft-raided tavern at 3:03 p. m.

Deputies cited Margaret B. Watson, licensee, on a charge of sale and possession of alcoholic liquor. She is scheduled for a hearing tonight at 8 before Squire John D. Herron of New Cumberland.

The three deputies in the raiding party confiscated three fifths of whisky and a fifth of gin from the Cactus Bar. There was no

In Crash At Lisbon

Auto Rams House, 3 Hurt

A spectacular crash at 12:05 a.m. today in Lisbon caused $3,000 damage to a home, injured three persons and demolished an auto.

A 1960 car driven by Elmer Allen Hamilton, 19, of Rome in Ashtabula County went out of control and smashed into the home of Mrs. Lydia Benton, 502 N. Market St., after knocking down a steel railing at the adjoining home of Mrs. W. D. Morris, police said.

Injured and taken to Salem City Hospital were: Robert Nowak, 19, of Mantua R.D. 2, back injuries; Alice Storey, 15, of Warren, a broken arm and collar bone, and Geraldine Zaben, 16, also of Warren. Nowak is in "fair" condition, Miss Storey is in "good" condition and Miss Zaben was treated and released.

Lisbon police said Hamilton was driving south on N. Market St. when he failed to negotiate a curve just south of Jerome St. His car went over a curb, struck a tree, then slid sideways and knocked down the railing at the Morris home, police said.

The car continued another 25 feet before striking the Benton home at the northwest corner, moving it off the foundation. The front porch was destroyed and all the windows in the west side were broken, police said.

Loss was estimated at $2,000 in the destruction of the auto. Patrolman Leon Zahrndt said the auto was broken in half. Cited for reckless driving, Hamilton was fined $50 and costs today by Mayor Dean Stockman. He waited in jail pending payment of the penalty by his mother, Mrs. Frances T. Hartwig, who owned the car.

Mrs. Benton is in the Hutton Nursing Home at Salem. Mr. and Mrs. William Brownfield, who reside upstairs, said they thought the house had been struck by lightning when they heard the loud crash.

Accord Seen On Strategy For Germany

Kennedy Says Clay And He Agree On Handling Of Crises

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says he and Gen. Lucius D. Clay are in full agreement on how to handle effectively any possible future crisis in Berlin.

The President's statement was issued Sunday after he and Clay, who is Kennedy's personal representative in West Berlin, had talked for an hour at the White House.

Clay came to Washington for talks with the President and Secretary of State Dean Rusk amid reports he believed the U.S. commander in West Berlin, Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, should have greater authority to handle unexpected emergencies.

The statement read to reporters by White House press secretary Pierre Salinger after Sunday's Kennedy-Clay meeting apparently sought to dispel any idea of a deep rift within the administration over the handling of any future emergencies in Berlin.

The statement by the chief executive said:

"General Clay and I have had a most useful and satisfactory review of the current situation in Berlin and Germany. I have been very glad to get his report of the continuing staunchness of the people of West Berlin and we have talked at length about the ways and means of sustaining and strengthening the life of their great city in the future as in the past.

"We have also reviewed the general problem of effective handling of possible crisis situations and we have reached full agreement on the policy to be followed during these months.

"This meeting is one more way in which Mr. Rusk, General Clay and I can keep in the closest touch and we continue to be fortunate in having him as the senior American in Berlin."

Salinger was asked if the state-

President Lauds DiSalle In Dinner For Governor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—President Kennedy came to Ohio Saturday night making no bones about it that he was appearing as head of the Democratic Party. And he left no doubt that he admires Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and his work.

That's as far as things got in clearing up the political muddle which got under way Oct. 20 when DiSalle, frustrated by a Republican - controlled legislature, announced he would not seek a second four-year term so he could fight for his programs "unencumbered by a candidacy."

Some politicians and political observers had expressed belief in advance of the $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner in honor of DiSalle's 54th birthday that Kennedy might come up with a forthright plea that DiSalle change his mind and run again.

The President, it turned out, was a bit more subtle.

He praised DiSalle for being the first big-state governor to jump on the Kennedy bandwagon as early as Jan. 5, 1959.

Then he spoke with assurance of his belief that Ohio, this year, will elect a Democratic governor, re-elect Democratic Sen. Frank J. Lausche and Democratic congressmen "who stand for progress in Ohio and in the nation."

Much of DiSalle's frustration with the GOP legislature has been over differences of opinion on spending levels for various welfare and mental health programs. The President chose the field of mental retardation to illustrate that his programs and DiSalle's are largely identical.

"The work that he (DiSalle) has done in one field alone in mental retardation is indicative of his concern and what must be the concern of us all," Kennedy told Ohioans. "How glad all us would be if, in the next five years, it is possible for the more than five million children who suffer at one time or another in their lives from this affliction could be cured as we have cured so many other diseases.

"These are the things which interest our party. They interest the American people. They are responsibilities thrust upon us. Gov. DiSalle has recognized them and what he has tried to do in the state of Ohio we are trying to do in the United States of America."

With apparent reference to DiSalle's service during the Truman administration and the Korean conflict as director of the Federal Office of Price Stabilization and his later service in government, Kennedy offered Ohioans this appraisal of DiSalle:

"Gov. DiSalle has rendered singular service, before he became the governor of this state, to the people of our country in high position. He has rendered service to the people of the state of Ohio as a distinguished governor—and to every position which he has held he has brought integrity, a sense of community with the people and a recognition that no city, no state and no country can afford to stand still, but must move forward."

Koppers Strike Ends

Rightists Hit Algiers With Strike Move

ALGIERS (AP) — A show-of-strength strike called by the rightist underground army of French settlers fighting Algerian independence crippled Algiers and Oran today.

Crowds streamed into the streets of Algeria's two largest cities in response to a call from the Secret Army for a two-hour general strike.

The Secret Army pegged the call for the strike to support a protest by hospital personnel who object to increased police control over their activities. French officials have charged some hospital staffs with being accomplices of the underground. A number of right-wing extremists taken to hospitals for treatment after being arrested have escaped.

Rebel government leaders met in neighboring Morocco for talks on the prospects for making peace with French President Charles de Gaulle.

Members of the exile government indicated they have gone as

A member of the Columbiana County Bar Association, he is a director of the Central Federal Savings & Loan Association and past president of the Kiwanis Club and Wellsville Chamber of Commerce.

Dalrymple was charter president of the Wellsville Fraternal Order of Police Associates lodge and a charter member of Southern Ruritan Club. A director of the Wellsville Red Cross Chapter, he attended Mt. Union College and Ohio State University Law School.

Walkout Seen As 'Deadlock' At Ware Plant

No new developments were seen today in a walkout of kilnfiremen at the Hall China Co. which has idled some 300 employes.

Pickets returned to entrances of the plant this morning, apparently refusing to obey the advice of the international union to return to work pending settlement of the dispute.

The dispute started late Thursday over the employment of four kilnfiremen's helpers. A picket line established Friday morning was honored by other workers.

The company contends it is not required to employ helpers when production is down to two kilns, but the union said all other area plants use a helper in such a situation.

John T. Hall, president of the East End firm, said no negotiations have been scheduled. He pointed out the union has termed the walkout illegal and said the grievance should be taken through the proper channels.

The union sent telegrams to the local president and the shop committee chairman Friday to return to work pending a solution of the dispute.

129 Scouters Attend Winter Camp

Some 129 Scouts and leaders of about 12 troops attended the Cherokee District winter camp Friday through Sunday at Camp McKinley near Lisbon.

Shown above during the rain early Saturday afternoon are members of Troop 36 of the Calcutta Longs Run Presbyterian Church. Don Lyle, scoutmaster, is pouring a cup of coffee for Bill Rayburn, camping and activities chairman.

Troop sites were commended by Paul Calhoun, camp inspector, and his staff. Straw was used to cover the wet ground and scouts were equipped with sleeping bags and heavy blankets.

Assisting with inspections were Bob Reed, Ed Bayless and Bill Moon. Rayburn, camp chief, reported scouts were cheerful and optimistic in spite of the weather.

Tom Snow, district chairman, was in charge of registration. Assisting in the supervision of the camp were Milton Reese and Don Thciss. Lester Hissam, scoutmaster of Troop 34, and Bob Gray, scout executive, were in charge of supply.

Sunday morning Protestant services were held with Robin Snow and Tommy Thornton both life scouts, and Billy Brown, eagle scout, in charge. They are of Troop 12 and are holders of the God and Country award. Catholic Boys were taken to Lisbon for Mass and Mormon services were held at the Stone House.

Boys attending were awarded the Cherokee Polar Bear patch. Camp ended Sunday at noon. Troops present include Nos. 36, 14, 20, 60, 49, 15, 74, 76, 31, 54, 46 and 12.

Help Awaits Dominicans When Stable

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The chief coordinator of the Alliance for Progress program says it will begin work in the Dominican Republic as soon as possible to help restore economic stability and thus aid this nation's steps toward democracy.

Teodoro Moscoso, Latin American director for the U.S. agency for international development, arrived here Sunday with a staff of technicians.

The urgency of his mission was underlined by his arrival only four days after diplomatic relations between Washington and Santo Domingo were resumed following the lifting of sanctions imposed on the defunct Trujillo dictatorship last year by the Organization of American States.

Moscoso met briefly with President Joaquin Balaquer and the ruling State Council, which is grappling with trade deficits and unemployment estimated as high as 600,000.

"The mission's purpose," Moscoso told a news conference, "is to collaborate in a secure alliance of effort to see that the Dominican Republic fulfills its democratic destiny as an outstanding ally of free nations of the hemisphere."

Both English and Spanish are accepted as official languages in New Mexico.

Warrant Issued For Driver Charged In State Patrol Case

A warrant was issued this morning in Municipal Court to hale a city motorist before Judge Samuel L. Chertoff after the driver forfeited a $32.50 bond on a speeding charge filed by the State Highway Patrol.

The capias was issued at the request of State Highway Patrolman E. D. Wain, who said he wanted Clarence L. McClure, 252 Baum St., to face the bench.

McClure forfeited the bond when he failed to appear this morning after being cited Friday night on W. 8th St. for speeding 60 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone.

Patrolman Wain told the court McClure had been drinking when he was stopped, but not sufficiently to charge him with driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

The officer said McClure drove left of center several times between Wellsville and East Liverpool.

He said he allowed McClure to drive his car home and put his dog in the house. After waiting about 10 minutes, Patrolman Wain said he knocked and McClure was in doubt whether to accompany the officer.

The patrolman said McClure failed to honor a citation issued Dec. 18 for driving without a muffler and had to be looked up before he appeared in court.

A reckless driving charge against Mrs. Kathryn Beaver, 31, of 115 Kountz Ave., Wellsville, was dismissed by Judge Chertoff after ruling that Mrs. Beaver was not guilty of reckless operation when her car struck a city fire hydrant at 3rd and Market Sts. early Saturday morning.

Judge Chertoff said Mrs. Beaver hit the fire plug in order to halt her car after the brakes failed while she was descending Market St.

Mrs. Beaver and a companion, Mrs. Charlotte Adkins, 46, of 207 Walnut St., were injured in the crash.

Sentencing of Dale G. Morrell, 211 E. 3rd St., was continued until Jan. 17 by Judge Chertoff after he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving without an operator's permit. He was cited at 12:35 a. m. today on W. 8th St., police said.

George Dragelevich of Detroit forfeited a $32.50 bond on a charge of passing on a curve Friday night on Route 30. He was cited by the patrol.

Two other motorists cited by the patrol are due for hearings Friday.

Charles R. Hull of Westfield is scheduled to appear at 9 a. m. on a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way and making a left turn into the path of oncoming traffic. He was cited Saturday at 7:05 p. m. on Route 7.

Andy Simkovic of Nemacolin, Pa., is to appear at 3:30 p. m. Friday on a charge of passing on a curve over a yellow line on Route 30. He posted a $32.50 bond.

Cincinnati Man Slain In Gas Station Holdup

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police continued to hunt for clues today in the apparent robbery-slaying of Robert Whitis, 29, a gas station attendant.

Whitis was found dead in the station Sunday night. There was a gaping wound in his side and a money belt he usually wore was missing, though the office safe was not disturbed.

129 Scouters Attend Winter Camp

Some 129 Scouts and leaders of about 12 troops attended the Cherokee District winter camp Friday through Sunday at Camp McKinley near Lisbon.

Shown above during the rain early Saturday afternoon are members of Troop 36 of the Calcutta Longs Run Presbyterian Church. Don Lyle, scoutmaster, is pouring a cup of coffee for Bill Rayburn, camping and activities chairman.

Troop sites were commended by Paul Calhoun, camp inspector, and his staff. Straw was used to cover the wet ground and scouts were equipped with sleeping bags and heavy blankets.

Assisting with inspections were Bob Reed, Ed Bayless and Bill Moon. Rayburn, camp chief, reported scouts were cheerful and optimistic in spite of the weather.

Tom Snow, district chairman, was in charge of registration. Assisting in the supervision of the camp were Milton Reese and Don Theiss. Lester Hissam, scoutmaster of Troop 34, and Bob Gray, scout executive, were in charge of supply.

Sunday morning Protestant services were held with Robin Snow and Tommy Thornton both life scouts, and Billy Brown, eagle scout, in charge. They are of Troop 12 and are holders of the God and Country award. Catholic Boys were taken to Lisbon for Mass and Mormon services were held at the Stone House.

Boys attending were awarded the Cherokee Polar Bear patch. Camp ended Sunday at noon. Troops present include Nos. 36, 14, 20, 60, 49, 15, 74, 76, 31, 54, 46 and 12.

Help Awaits Dominicans When Stable

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The chief coordinator of the Alliance for Progress program says it will begin work in the Dominican Republic as soon as possible to help restore economic stability and thus aid this nation's steps toward democracy.

Teodoro Moscoso, Latin American director for the U.S. agency for international development, arrived here Sunday with a staff of technicians.

The urgency of his mission was underlined by his arrival only four days after diplomatic relations between Washington and Santo Domingo were resumed following the lifting of sanctions imposed on the defunct Trujillo dictatorship last year by the Organization of American States.

Moscoso met briefly with President Joaquin Balaquer and the ruling State Council, which is grappling with trade deficits and unemployment estimated as high as 600,000.

"The mission's purpose," Moscoso told a news conference, "is to collaborate in a secure alliance of effort to see that the Dominican Republic fulfills its democratic destiny as an outstanding ally of free nations of the hemisphere."

Both English and Spanish are accepted as official languages in New Mexico.

Brown Raps Nixon With 'Birch' Rod

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California said today Richard M. Nixon "is not joining the fight against the ultra right-wing, although these extremists are a strong force in our state and in his party."

Brown said former Vice President Nixon "must choose between principle and opportunism. He has chosen the latter. He has stepped away from those who are fighting the political primitives, and he apparently wants their money and support."

Brown's attack on Nixon, who has declared his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the California governorship, was in a speech prepared for delivery to the National Press Club.

Nowhere in his remarks did Brown state unqualifiedly that he will seek re-election this year. But, he hinted at it several times.

He closed by saying: "I have a hunch Richard Nixon will walk into the 'bare-knuckle' scrap he's looking for—and I don't think you will want to miss a round of it."

Brown introduced the subject "of the John Birch Society and its extremist allies" by saying they pose a situation in his state "that seriously disturbs me."

"You may well note," the Democratic governor said, "that Nixon is not a John Bircher, and the evidence is that he is not."

However, Brown added, Nixon "appears on the same platform with Birch candidates and assures them 'There is room in the Republican party for people who differ.' He goes even farther. He promises to support them if they win in the primaries.

"I would hope that responsible Republicans in California will not let him walk both sides of the street much longer. He is not fighting extremists. And the only way to meet this issue is to fight it, in whatever form it turns up."

Brown said "one important unit of the Republican party already has swung to the Birchers—while Nixon and other Republican leaders look away."

And, Brown added, Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society, "claims California as his main source of both dollars and disciples."

"No other state," Brown said, "must admit to having two John Birch representatives in Congress." This was a reference to Republican Reps. Edgar W. Hiestand and John H. Rousselot, who have said they are members of the society.

"Furthermore," Brown said, "the ultraconservatives have corporate financial support. They are using it to exact concessions from merely Conservative Republicans, and to seize control of party organization."

Brown said that if he runs for re-election he wants no support from extremists of the left or right.

gambling equipment on the premises, deputies said.

Trooper D. L. Lake of the State Police barracks in Weirton cited three tavern operators, and a second trooper cited another.

Trooper Lake led off his arrests with Robert E. Fryer, proprietor of Bob's Bar on Route 30 near Chester, Saturday afternoon.

Fryer was cited on charges of illegal possession of liquor and exhibiting gaming devices — two slot machines — Trooper Lake said.

Fryer was fined $100 and costs on the liquor charge and $200 and costs for exhibiting the slot machines at a hearing Saturday before Chester. He pleaded guilty to both counts.

Fryer also signed a waiver for destruction of the "one armed bandits" of the quarter and nickel variety, allowing State Police to dispose of the equipment by burning.

Trooper Lake also cited Francis Sciarrino, operator of Sabu's Lounge and Raymond Lewis, operator of Ray's Place, both in Weirton, Sunday night on charges of illegal possession of liquor on premises licensed only for sale of beer. They are scheduled for hearings today at 3 p. m. before Squire Thomas Bellanco.

State Police also cited James Davis at the Music Bar on State Route 2 near Chester on a charge of possession of liquor on licensed premises. The liquor was confiscated, the officers reported.

Missing Icy Road Leads Driver Into Accident In City

Because of the possibility of running into icy grades on the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd., Warren Bickerton of N. Shady Ln. Dr. decided to come down Lisbon St. and follow Route 39 en route to work in Midland this morning.

As he headed south on Lisbon St. at Wyoming Ave., Bickerton saw an empty school bus approaching and tapped his brakes to slow down so both vehicles could make the narrow curve.

His car skidded on the icy streets and struck the vehicle owned by the Snyder Bus Co. and operated by Ralph E. Chapman, 2015 Ohio Ave.

Bickerton normally goes to Calcutta and follows the Smiths Ferry Rd. to the state line.

City police were summoned and notified the State Highway Patrol, which investigates all mishaps involving school busses.

Trespassing Charge Dropped After Trial

A charge of trespassing against Dan Baldwin, 1708 Maple Ave., Wellsville, was dismissed this morning by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff following a hearing on the complaint filed by Mrs. Dorothy Hoodski, 462 Orchard Grove Ave.

Judge Chertoff indicated he was not convinced that Baldwin unlawfully remained on the premises as alleged in Mrs. Hoodski's affidavit. Mrs. Hoodski alleged she notified Baldwin and two companions to leave her premises early Wednesday but that he "wilfully and unlawfully neglected and refused to depart."

Mrs. Hoodski, her daughter, Dorothy Hoodski, and brother-in-law, Jack Hoodski, 117½ E. 6th St., testified for the prosecution while Baldwin took the stand in his own defense. William Dilorta and Frank Biddlestone, both of Steubenville, also testified for Balwin.

MP's Delay Soviet Bus At Berlin Entry

BERLIN (AP)—American military policemen held up a busload of Soviet army officers for 75 minutes Sunday at the West Berlin border in a tense test of screening.

Clearance for the bus was given only after the Russians gave assurances that the Soviet commandant and his top political adviser, who are taboo in the U.S. sector, were not aboard.

Col. Andrei Solovyev, the Soviet commandant, and his chief aide, Lt. Col. Georgi Alekseev, are banned in retaliation for allowing the East Germans to harass U.S. officials crossing into East Berlin.

Halting of the bus, carrying 18 officers, marked the third time in a week that Soviet military personnel have run into U.S. roadblocks.

The bus remained in West Berlin less than half an hour and then went back east with no indication of the purpose of the trip.

The unusually large number of officers aboard led to speculation the Russians might have been seeking only to confuse or embarrass the Americans at Checkpoint Charlie on Friedrichstrasse.

Neues Deutschland, the East German Communist party organ, in an editorial today advised Gen. Lucius Clay, President Kennedy's personal representative in Berlin, to go back to private business.

The paper accused Clay of inciting the U.S. commandant in West Berlin, Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, "to commit stupidities again and again" in the past few months.

It reamined to be seen, the paper said, whether Clay returned "cooled down" from his talks in Washington with the President and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

City Man Goes To Jail In Lieu Of $100 Fine

An East Liverpool man, unable to pay $100 and costs late Saturday night before Chester Mayor Ray Collins on a charge of assault and battery, was given a term of 40 days in the Hancock County Jail at New Cumberland.

Allen Clark, 37, of 2000 Lisbon St. Ext. pleaded not guilty to a complaint signed Dec. 9 by John Burgess of Carolina Ave., who claimed he was visiting a friend at 2nd St. when Clark came in and assaulted him.

Clark was sentenced to 30 days which was extended to 40 days since he was unable to pay. He was arrested Saturday at 11:30 p. m. at the Turf Bar by Patrolman Clarence Lennens.

tary base outside this South Celebes city.

There were no indications of any arrests but military precautions and security were strengthened in Makassar, the probable jumping-off point for any invasion of Dutch New Guinea.

Until recently, the Makassar area also was a center of rebels opposing Sukarno's government.

The president attacked Dutch Foreign Minister J. M. A. H. Luns for his statement in a magazine interview recently that West New Guinea's Papuan population should not come under Indonesian domination because they are racially different from the Indonesians.

"The Papuan people of West Irian (West New Guinea) are part of the Indonesian race. A desire by people to live together creates a nation. Indonesia is of many peoples and the West Irian people are part of it," Sukarno said.

Sukarno attacked Luns' statements that the Papuans are so uncivilized they need Dutch support and training, and that the Netherlands had put more into its colonies than it had taken from them.

Reinforcements poured into the South Celebes as Sukarno toured the area. A source close to the president said guerrilla "volunteers" are expected to begin hit-and-run attacks soon in West New Guinea, which Indonesia has claimed ever since the nation gained independence from the Netherlands in 1949.

In a speech at the fishing village of Bonthian, Sukarno told a crowd Indonesia will invade the territory unless the Dutch hand it over and "we don't care about world opinion."

However, he said his policy has the support of the Communist, Asian and African world. "Two billion people support us," he said. "How many people support Holland?"

Nine foreign ambassadors, including U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones, were in Sukarno's party.

ment meant Clay was fully satisfied with the situation regarding authority for the U.S. military commander. Salinger replied that Clay had read the President's statement and approved it.

The Berlin situation was one of the subjects touched on by Rusk in a radio interview program — "Reporters Roundup" — MBS.

Despite new talks between U.S. Ambassador Llewellwyn Thompson and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, the Berlin question remains "a potentially dangerous issue," Rusk said.

Rusk said French President Charles de Gaulle did not object to the exploratory talks in Moscow. However, Rusk said, De Gaulle "has some very considerable reluctance about engaging in formal negotiations until it is quite clear that there is an adequate basis for such negotiations."

In a speech Saturday night at Columbus, Ohio, Kennedy was optimistic about the course of the East-West struggle.

Brown Raps Nixon With 'Birch' Rod

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California said today Richard M. Nixon "is not joining the fight against the ultra right-wing, although these extremists are a strong force in our state and in his party."

Brown said former Vice President Nixon "must choose between principle and opportunism. He has chosen the latter. He has stepped away from those who are fighting the political primitives, and he apparently wants their money and support."

Brown's attack on Nixon, who has declared his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the California governorship, was in a speech prepared for delivery to the National Press Club.

Nowhere in his remarks did Brown state unqualifiedly that he will seek re-election this year. But, he hinted at it several times.

He closed by saying: "I have a hunch Richard Nixon will walk into the 'bare-knuckle' scrap he's looking for—and I don't think you will want to miss a round of it."

Brown introduced the subject "of the John Birch Society and its extremist allies" by saying they pose a situation in his state "that seriously disturbs me."

"You may well note," the Democratic governor said, "that Nixon is not a John Bircher, and the evidence is that he is not."

However, Brown added, Nixon "appears on the same platform with Birch candidates and assures them 'There is room in the Republican party for people who differ.' He goes even farther. He promises to support them if they win in the primaries.

"I would hope that responsible Republicans in California will not let him walk both sides of the street much longer. He is not fighting extremists. And the only way to meet this issue is to fight it, in whatever form it turns up."

Brown said "one important unit of the Republican party already has swung to the Birchers—while Nixon and other Republican leaders look away."

And, Brown added, Robert Welch, founder of the John Birch Society, "claims California as his main source of both dollars and disciples."

"No other state," Brown said, "must admit to having two John Birch representatives in Congress." This was a reference to Republican Reps. Edgar W. Hiestand and John H. Rousselot, who have said they are members of the society.

"Furthermore," Brown said, "the ultraconservatives have corporate financial support. They are using it to exact concessions from merely Conservative Republicans, and to seize control of party organization."

Brown said that if he runs for re-election he wants no support from extremists of the left or right.

gambling equipment on the premises, deputies said.

Trooper D. L. Lake of the State Police barracks in Weirton cited three tavern operators, and a second trooper cited another.

Trooper Lake led off his arrests with Robert E. Fryer, proprietor of Bob's Bar on Route 30 near Chester, Saturday afternoon.

Fryer was cited on charges of illegal possession of liquor and exhibiting gaming devices — two slot machines — Trooper Lake said.

Fryer was fined $100 and costs on the liquor charge and $200 and costs for exhibiting the slot machines at a hearing Saturday before Chester. He pleaded guilty to both counts.

Fryer also signed a waiver for destruction of the "one armed bandits" of the quarter and nickel variety, allowing State Police to dispose of the equipment by burning.

Trooper Lake also cited Francis Sciarrino, operator of Sabu's Lounge and Raymond Lewis, operator of Ray's Place, both in Weirton, Sunday night on charges of illegal possession of liquor on premises licensed only for sale of beer. They are scheduled for hearings today at 3 p. m. before Squire Thomas Bellanco.

State Police also cited James Davis at the Music Bar on State Route 2 near Chester on a charge of possession of liquor on licensed premises. The liquor was confiscated, the officers reported.

Missing Icy Road Leads Driver Into Accident In City

Because of the possibility of running into icy grades on the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd., Warren Bickerton of N. Shady Ln. Dr. decided to come down Lisbon St. and follow Route 39 en route to work in Midland this morning.

As he headed south on Lisbon St. at Wyoming Ave., Bickerton saw an empty school bus approaching and tapped his brakes to slow down so both vehicles could make the narrow curve.

His car skidded on the icy streets and struck the vehicle owned by the Snyder Bus Co. and operated by Ralph E. Chapman, 2015 Ohio Ave.

Bickerton normally goes to Calcutta and follows the Smiths Ferry Rd. to the state line.

City police were summoned and notified the State Highway Patrol, which investigates all mishaps involving school busses.

Trespassing Charge Dropped After Trial

A charge of trespassing against Dan Baldwin, 1708 Maple Ave., Wellsville, was dismissed this morning by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff following a hearing on the complaint filed by Mrs. Dorothy Hoodski, 462 Orchard Grove Ave.

Judge Chertoff indicated he was not convinced that Baldwin unlawfully remained on the premises as alleged in Mrs. Hoodski's affidavit. Mrs. Hoodski alleged she notified Baldwin and two companions to leave her premises early Wednesday but that he "wilfully and unlawfully neglected and refused to depart."

Mrs. Hoodski, her daughter, Dorothy Hoodski, and brother-in-law, Jack Hoodski, 117½ E. 6th St., testified for the prosecution while Baldwin took the stand in his own defense. William Dilorta and Frank Biddlestone, both of Steubenville, also testified for Balwin.

MP's Delay Soviet Bus At Berlin Entry

BERLIN (AP)—American military policemen held up a busload of Soviet army officers for 75 minutes Sunday at the West Berlin border in a tense test of screening.

Clearance for the bus was given only after the Russians gave assurances that the Soviet commandant and his top political adviser, who are taboo in the U.S. sector, were not aboard.

Col. Andrei Solovyev, the Soviet commandant, and his chief aide, Lt. Col. Georgi Alekseev, are banned in retaliation for allowing the East Germans to harass U.S. officials crossing into East Berlin.

Halting of the bus, carrying 18 officers, marked the third time in a week that Soviet military personnel have run into U.S. roadblocks.

The bus remained in West Berlin less than half an hour and then went back east with no indication of the purpose of the trip.

The unusually large number of officers aboard led to speculation the Russians might have been seeking only to confuse or embarrass the Americans at Checkpoint Charlie on Friedrichstrasse.

Neues Deutschland, the East German Communist party organ, in an editorial today advised Gen. Lucius Clay, President Kennedy's personal representative in Berlin, to go back to private business.

The paper accused Clay of inciting the U.S. commandant in West Berlin, Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, "to commit stupidities again and again" in the past few months.

It reamined to be seen, the paper said, whether Clay returned "cooled down" from his talks in Washington with the President and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

City Man Goes To Jail In Lieu Of $100 Fine

An East Liverpool man, unable to pay $100 and costs late Saturday night before Chester Mayor Ray Collins on a charge of assault and battery, was given a term of 40 days in the Hancock County Jail at New Cumberland.

Allen Clark, 37, of 2000 Lisbon St. Ext. pleaded not guilty to a complaint signed Dec. 9 by John Burgess of Carolina Ave., who claimed he was visiting a friend at 2nd St. when Clark came in and assaulted him.

Clark was sentenced to 30 days which was extended to 40 days since he was unable to pay. He was arrested Saturday at 11:30 p. m. at the Turf Bar by Patrolman Clarence Lennens.

tary base outside this South Celebes city.

There were no indications of any arrests but military precautions and security were strengthened in Makassar, the probable jumping-off point for any invasion of Dutch New Guinea.

Until recently, the Makassar area also was a center of rebels opposing Sukarno's government.

The president attacked Dutch Foreign Minister J. M. A. H. Luns for his statement in a magazine interview recently that West New Guinea's Papuan population should not come under Indonesian domination because they are racially different from the Indonesians.

"The Papuan people of West Irian (West New Guinea) are part of the Indonesian race. A desire by people to live together creates a nation. Indonesia is of many peoples and the West Irian people are part of it," Sukarno said.

Sukarno attacked Luns' statements that the Papuans are so uncivilized they need Dutch support and training, and that the Netherlands had put more into its colonies than it had taken from them.

Reinforcements poured into the South Celebes as Sukarno toured the area. A source close to the president said guerrilla "volunteers" are expected to begin hit-and-run attacks soon in West New Guinea, which Indonesia has claimed ever since the nation gained independence from the Netherlands in 1949.

In a speech at the fishing village of Bonthian, Sukarno told a crowd Indonesia will invade the territory unless the Dutch hand it over and "we don't care about world opinion."

However, he said his policy has the support of the Communist, Asian and African world. "Two billion people support us," he said. "How many people support Holland?"

Nine foreign ambassadors, including U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones, were in Sukarno's party.

ment meant Clay was fully satisfied with the situation regarding authority for the U.S. military commander. Salinger replied that Clay had read the President's statement and approved it.

The Berlin situation was one of the subjects touched on by Rusk in a radio interview program — "Reporters Roundup" — MBS.

Despite new talks between U.S. Ambassador Llewellwyn Thompson and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, the Berlin question remains "a potentially dangerous issue," Rusk said.

Rusk said French President Charles de Gaulle did not object to the exploratory talks in Moscow. However, Rusk said, De Gaulle "has some very considerable reluctance about engaging in formal negotiations until it is quite clear that there is an adequate basis for such negotiations."

In a speech Saturday night at Columbus, Ohio, Kennedy was optimistic about the course of the East-West struggle.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Personalities And Politics

Depending on whose word you take for it, President Kennedy's popularity index is rising at one rate or another—but undisputably rising.

This is his personal popularity index, not the index of the popularity of his ideas. His ideas are not clearly understood, and if they were understood they might not be acceptable.

It has been similarly true of recent chief executives beginning with Franklin D. Roosevelt that they were personally popular in spite of some things they stood for, not because of them.

And it has been similarly true of recent chief executives that their personal popularity wasn't a reliable indicator of their personal influence. Harry Truman could win an election in 1948 on the basis of personal popularity, but for the next four years he was hard-pressed for political support. Dwight Eisenhower could win by landslides in two national elections, but when he asked Congress for action he could whistle for votes.

Even the ineffable charm of Franklin Roosevelt was of no avail after he tried to pack the Supreme Court. From 1937 on, his political leadership was empty and would have remained so had it not been for his wartime emergency power.

SOME BELIEVE this experience of Mr. Roosevelt may have marked the transition of executive leadership in the United States from the president in office to the establishment behind the office.

These people believe the United States has been living under an evolving system of government since George Washington's presidency and is evolving now into a system of figurehead presidencies, with all political power residing in strong personalities behind the government—what Britons refer to as the "establishment."

They point to the disparity between what the American people think of personalities in politics and the politics of the personalities—and right now they point to the disparity between John F. Kennedy's personal popularity and his probable political influence in the approaching Congress.

Or they point to the fact that the late Robert A. Taft had more political influence in Congress than Harry Truman had when Taft, Republican leader of the Senate, was the acknowledged leader of a bipartisan conservative majority and Truman was the frustrated figurehead of a liberal minority.

Or they point to the singular oddity of Lyndon B. Johnson's dominant political power as Democratic leader of the Senate when Mr. Eisenhower was enjoying unprecedented presidential popularity as leader of the Republican party.

WHITE HOUSE occupants are becoming public symbols, like the presidents of France, or in another sense like the royal family of Great Britain. It is a matter of deep concern whether or not they are popular. But what they think about political question is not of paramount importance.

Their personal influence varies, but it is principally important in the continuity of government, not in the determination of day-to-day political decisions.

Actually, to suggest that this is the way it is now is only to suggest that this is the way it always was, with exceptions.

President Kennedy himself may be an exception, but after one year on the job, with his personal popularity rising and no corresponding improvement seen likely in his political influence, he looks more like the unexceptional.

Business-Like, Honest Approach

New administrations in various capacities —municipal, school boards, etc. — are assuming their duties in many district communities.

Their problems, as always, will be many and complex. Complaints again will outnumber compliments. The life of a public official is not always a pleasant one.

All that can be asked is that those serving never lose sight of their responsibilities to the people — those who elected them. With the taxpayers' money in their trust, a business -like approach to all matters is imperative. Serious thought is in order before the tax dollars are turned loose.

And above all, honesty must be the keynote. There will be mistakes, public officials being human. As long as they are honest mistakes they can be borne to a degree by the taxpayers. But any compromise in the direction of questionable activities cannot be condoned.

A look at the new year would not be complete without another word of caution about organized gambling.

While there undoubtedly are some instances where the law is being snubbed, the record shows that on the whole Columbiana County is free of the organized gambling that has led to unfavorable situations in neighboring areas in both Ohio and West Virginia. The lid must remain on during 1962 and the years ahead.

Adherence to the above should assure competent administrations in all fields throughout Columbiana County.

Sound Advice

"We believe that courts should be hard on teen-agers because we are more impressionable than adults."

This is the advice of the delegates to the sixth annual Ohio Youth Traffic Safety conference at Columbus.

Local and district courts should take the delegates at their word. The lessons young drivers learn today could save lives tomorrow—including their own.

Russia, China And Coexistence

Not everything Nikita Khrushchev says makes sense.

Sometimes he talks to keep the air full of confusion.

He is a master in the art of dialectics. No man can be premier of the Soviet Union without a full understanding of this art, which is essentially the art of confusion.

But one thing Premier Krushchev says does not sound as if he meant it to be confusing. He sounds as if he was trying earnestly to clarify something when he tells the Communists in China he thinks Russia's policy of coexistence should be their policy too.

WHEN KHRUSHCHEV talks about Chinese policy, he is talking about Russia's foremost point of international concern.

The People's Republic of China is the only Communist country large enough to attack Russia.

Though Khrushchev talks as if he expected the United States to attack Russia, or perhaps for the attack to come from Britain, he knows Russia needs to fear only one potential antagonist—its neighbor China. No one else is addicted to the idea of total destruction.

The only way Russia could be attacked, except by China, would be through an alliance of its own designated victims, and such an alliance for offensive purposes would be unthinkable. It has been only partly successful for defensive purposes.

But an industrialized China could attack Russia with a fair chance of overwhelming it. Khrushchev knows this. The Chinese Communists know it.

EVERYBODY who knows what happens when strong contenders believing the same thing come to power at the same time senses the likelihood of a clash between Communist Russia and Communist China.

With the leaders of Communist China having taken a strong position for world conquest, it is no mystery why Khrushchev believes in coexistence.

If there is to be no coexistence, there is going to be no Soviet Union on or about the time Khrushchev's grandchildren are ready to struggle with the terms of survival in a dog-eat-dog world.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Not enjoyment and not sorrow
Is our destined end of way;
Let us ask that each tomorrow
Be much shorter than today.

Now the daily scenes remind us
Of more time out in the sun—
If we leave the job behind us
When our work has just begun

Let us then be up and doing
Making of our life a "ball";
Jobs we all should be pursuing
Where we don't show up at all.

Turbine (jet) auto now in California after coast-to-coast test. Auto industry has decided that 60 years are long enough to wait for people to learn to drive gasoline models.

A 50-foot yacht was parked in midtown New York lot pending removal to boat show. New Year's eve celebrator, parking car beside it, exclaimed "One of us must be drifting."

AUTOMATED SUBWAY train is ahead. In New York it is getting test, with union consenting with understanding it will carry motorman on experimental trials in shuttle from Times Square to Grand Central. Motorman should be loneliest on earth.

In all fairness he should be allowed the company of a pinochle player, a man who can do card tricks and a psychiatrist to answer his question, "All I know is I feel useless. I keep thinking a monster is hovering over me. Can you help me?"

It's a dull ride, especially if motorman knows he is playing second fiddle to wonders of scientific engineering. He won't be consoled by frequent message from Mike Quill (in outer space) saying "I am with you in spirit, on or off TV. Stay happy."

Washington's long instructions on booklet on fallout shelters are causing many people to say "Let's start digging. We can do it in less time than it takes them to read the pamphlet."

MAIL ORDER CATALOGUES are now listing world tours, jet trips and luxury vacations, topped by a 36-day journey through nine countries for $2,470. The leap from world of overalls, boots, magic lanterns, iron stoves, bicycles, perambulators, woolen undies, fur caps, leather jacket, kerosene lamps, plows, horse collars, roller skates and air rifles is staggering. This can be a blow to literary development. Millions of economical Americans used to get their basic reading in mail order catalogues. Nothing in them seemed to cost more than $3.98.

Missile Unions Ready Demands

By Victor Riesel

One day next month a labor leader will ask the Pentagon whether it lays off its admirals and generals during shift overs from one brand of weapons to a more "sophisticated" swifter lot.

Victor Riesel

Now there's a thought which tempts me. But I must rush on to report that the union chief is the outspoken Al J. Hayes. He leads hundreds of thousands of machinists who make the supersonic flying things — the Polaris, the Titan, the Minute Man, the Atlas and what the trade calls the space age horseless carriage, the Mercury capsule which has carried our most valorous astronauts into outer space.

Whether Mr. Hayes' voice will be raised in anger, I do not know. But he will be speaking at a "price tag conference" of union officials who might call a strike in the nation's biggest plants such as General Dynamics, Boeing, Douglas, Martin, Lockheed et al.

THEY MIGHT not strike, but we'll know what it is Mr. Hayes, president of the International Association of Machinists, and Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers (also in the missile business), will demand after they and their regional colleagues meet at the "Aircraft, Missile and Related Electronics Conference." This is scheduled for Feb. 19 in the Sheraton Park hotel at Washington.

Mr. Hayes will confer with his own people on the 19th. Then they will go into joint session with Reuther and his people on the 20th and 21st to plan joint demands and joint action. Against whom?

Nominally, they will be pushing their demands on the big corporations which once were organized in something called the Aircraft Industries Association, but they now have renamed themselves the Aero Space Industries of America.

The re-christening is a sign of the times. And it is evidence that the association's biggest customer is the United States government. This means that the real bargaining when you get basic, and you should, is between the two unions and the White House—via the Pentagon which does the ordering, and Defense Secretary McNamara who sets the policy and finally John Kennedy who pays the bills.

THIS IS MOSTLY a cost plus business. Which means that the government pays all costs, including any new wages and increased tabs for improved working conditions. The "plus" is the company profit. There are millions involved And, of course, JFK's promise to balance the budget.

The size of all this can be seen from the fact that 650,000 machinists are involved in this wizardry where much of the production is directed by memory tape running through brain machines.

Mr. Hayes and his colleagues are worried by the feast or famine approach of the government. In Long Island, for example, thousands may lose jobs when a Navy supersonic Jet F 105 fighter contract is completed at Republic Aircraft. The last time a contract ran out at the plant 5,000 men were laid off.

Word now comes that the Douglas plant at El Segunda, Calif., may close for lack of Navy orders — and 4,000 may be let out.

You can't blame the companies or the Pentagon if some bright lad comes up with a workable flying saucer instead of a jet-manned craft and a changeover is forced. But Mr. Hayes and his colleagues now will demand some sort of job security.

FURTHERMORE, they'll ask for higher severance pay. Also they will seek advance notice and consultation on the installation of new technological equipment — that automation again. They point out that no industry has automated so swiftly. "Rosie the Riveter," whom we middle-aged remember in the shipyards and aircraft plants of World War II, is gone. Now you put sheet metal in a machine and the tape rivets it by giving out with electrical impulses.

There are other more complex demands for a union shop, for federal retraining of laid-off workers, for higher pensions and for greater welfare benefits, etc. Also, the machinists nurse the big war head rockets on the missile sites — so the unions will ask for bigger "on site" special pay for being away from home.

These contracts with the jet and missile and electronic industry begin expiring in mid-February and then right on to next November.

These are determined unions. They, and not the tug of war between the steel unions and steel industry, will make the real labor headlines as the cold war abroad turns more icy.

Year Of Decision

By Earl Mazo

America's two-party system is facing a critical challenge in the national and state elections next November.

And the major burden is on the Republican party.

It must bound back impressively from its virtual habit as the loser — or waste away as a political apparatus of national scope, leaving the Democratic party without effective opposition at the highest levels of government.

At stake in the coming elections is the entire 435-member House of Representatives, 35 seats in the 100-member Senate and 35 of the 50 governorships.

Democrats presently hold commanding majorities, the ratio being 34 to 16 among the governors, 64 to 36 in the Senate, and 260 to 174 in the House (which has three vacancies.)

The Republican party's grave problem — an enormous opportunity — is pointed up by the fact that for a generation now, it has been commonplace for the Democrats to constitute the majority, and thus dominate public affairs.

Twice in the last 30 years, have the Republicans won control of Congress. And in all but two election years during that sweep of modern times the partisan balance among governors came out decidedly Democratic.

Now, with a popular and resourcefully - political Democrat in the White House and his party riding high in Congress and most state capitals, there is a strong possibility of Democratic party victory, (and rule,) becoming an American tradition.

Top-level Republicans are cognizant of the danger to their party and agree it has reached the point of decline where it must win —or wither.

And the critical election year is 1962.

Republican prospects for a comeback in the 1964 presidential election, and its hopes of ever winning control of the Senate in the forseeable future depend on the elections next November.

The Democratic party already has so many political treasures that its leaders wouldn't be displeased merely to hold their own in the coming nationwide contests.

But major gains are imperative to the Republican party.

Its three-pronged goal is to win:

1. Majority domination of the House of Representatives. This would give the party a center of power and authority in Washington, a base from which to expand, and control of investigating committees that would monitor the Democratic administration and expose shortcomings which may be found.

2. A net gain of three to six seats in the Senate. This is essential for Republicans. Otherwise it would be numerically impossible for them to achieve Senate majorities in the 1964 elections or even 1966.

3. A pick-up of five to eight governors. This increase begins developing a grass-roots party organization to cope with that of the Democrats.

All in all, those are mighty ambitious objectives.

GRIN AND BEAR IT — By George Lichty

Evasive Action

By David Lawrence

Decision Neglected On Economic Problems

Unpalatable news is often ignored as a new year begins. Wishful thinking is more pleasant and emphasis is rather on the optimistic side.

David Lawrence

Amid the somewhat laudatory reviews of President Kennedy's record thus far, there is almost no mention of the administration's biggest failure — its inability or unwillingness to come to grips with the greatest economic problem that faces this country in 1962.

The talk instead is of federal spending for education and for medical care, for foreign aid and for projected trips to the moon. Meanwhile, here on earth, inside America, unemployment is at a high level, and there are no signs that any fundamental policy which will assure the creation of new jobs is being adopted.

A steel strike is threatened for next June, and feverish stockpiling against that hazard has already begun. This could bring about the same economic maladjustment that caused the 1960 recession.

Economists of the First National City Bank of New York, in their monthly bank letter for January, mince no words as they point to Mr. Kennedy's failure to deal effectively with the wage-price spiral when he had a chance to do so last month in speeches before the National Association of Manufacturers and the AFL-CIO.

The bank letter, which is widely read and respected by businessmen, says in part:

"The official pronouncements seem so mild as scarcely to constitute a wage stabilization policy at all. . . .

"From the standpoint of labor economics, the steel industry could be cited as a classic example of unions pricing members out of their jobs.

"EMPLOYMENT COSTS in steel, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute, have risen from $2.72 per hour in 1955 to $4 in 1961.

"The average number of production workers over this period has declined from 519,000 to 408,000.

"The present need of the industry is to hold the line. Yet one principal objective of the United Steelworkers is to cut the work week from 40 hours to 32 hours with no loss in pay.

"The idea is to make room in the industry for unemployed union members. But, by raising the cost of an hour's work as much as 25 per cent and requiring steel price increases if the industry is to remain solvent, the result would be to reduce the market for the metal and also production and man-hours of employment.

"In New York City, as 1961 drew to a close, electricians, who now have a 30-hour week, voted to go out on strike for a 20-hour week. Actually, the electricians have been working on a contractual 35-hour schedule, with the extra five hours paid at overtime rates for a weekly pay envelope—subject to deductions—of $165.

"One electrical contractor has figured that, if this pay should be given for 20 hours' work, the effect would be to raise the rate to $8.25 an hour—or really still more since overtime, at time-and-a-half or double-time, would need to be paid to get the work done."

YET THE KENNEDY administration, which knows that all this is going on, has not done anything to restrain the abuse of union power.

To accept big strikes is not the answer so far as business is concerned, for the companies really cannot afford them, and the unions are aware of this. Thus work stoppages have become a form of extortion which knows no limits.

Will the administration—which, of course, owes much to labor unions because of their support at the polls and the money they collect for campaign contributions —rise above the selfishness of political considerations and do something effective before the free enterprise system breaks down and there is a public demand for nationalization of industry, as is practiced in some socialistic countries?

THIS IS SOME of the news of the hour that gets scant attention. There is hardly an industry that begins the year 1962 without fear that the profit squeeze, about which so much is heard nowadays from businessmen, is really the beginning of a decline that can only result in a deep depression in the next few years.

As the bank's letter says, "It should be manifest to everyone that profit realizations in recent years have been inadequate either to balance the federal budget or to sustain high employment."

Business is trying to cut costs and increase volume of sales. But as long as politics runs the government and the administration is afraid to deal with the exesses of labor unions, the economic plight of the country will not be relieved.

It's a sad story, but the people are entitled to the truth about what's going on.

Carpeted Classrooms

By James J. Morrisseau

Wall-to-wall carpeting, once the status symbol of suburbia, now is the latest thing in the classroom.

When 750 students enter their new $2.7 million high school in Andrews, Tex., next month, they will find $41,000 worth of carpeting covering the floors in all academic classrooms, except in the science area and the home economics kitchen, and in the library.

They will not be the first. A first-grade school in Andrews has had carpeting for the last five years. And Shaker High School, in a suburban area near Albany, N. Y. since 1958 has called itself "the only carpeted high school in the world."

The carpeting, insist the school architects and educators involved, is neither a frill nor a new manifestation of what some critics have held is a tendency to build "marble palaces" instead of schools.

To the contrary, they argue, carpeting has important educational advantages and it can result in economies in initial construction cost and in maintenance. Andrews school officials, in fact, predicted that the carpeting in their first-grade school would pay for itself in reduced maintenance costs in another four years.

ACTUALLY, there is evidence that the carpeted classroom is just another development in a slow but drastic revolution taking place in school design and construction.

The obvious effect of the revolution has been the appearance in a handful of communities across the nation of schools with odd-shaped classrooms, portable classrooms, classrooms with movable walls, or no classrooms at all; schools with geodesic domes in place of a conventional four-walled gymnasium; schools built as part of housing units; round schools, octagonal schools, even academic pentagons.

What really has happened, Dr. Harold B. Gores, president of Educational Facilities Laboratories, said is that the schools are beginning to break out of the "egg-crate" philosophy that has gripped them for more than a century.

Educational historians have traced the origins of the "egg-crate" idea to the construction of the Quincy school in Boston in 1847.

Personalities And Politics

Depending on whose word you take for it, President Kennedy's popularity index is rising at one rate or another—but undisputably rising.

This is his personal popularity index, not the index of the popularity of his ideas. His ideas are not clearly understood, and if they were understood they might not be acceptable.

It has been similarly true of recent chief executives beginning with Franklin D. Roosevelt that they were personally popular in spite of some things they stood for, not because of them.

And it has been similarly true of recent chief executives that their personal popularity wasn't a reliable indicator of their personal influence. Harry Truman could win an election in 1948 on the basis of personal popularity, but for the next four years he was hard-pressed for political support. Dwight Eisenhower could win by landslides in two national elections, but when he asked Congress for action he could whistle for votes.

Even the ineffable charm of Franklin Roosevelt was of no avail after he tried to pack the Supreme Court. From 1937 on, his political leadership was empty and would have remained so had it not been for his wartime emergency power.

SOME BELIEVE this experience of Mr. Roosevelt may have marked the transition of executive leadership in the United States from the president in office to the establishment behind the office.

These people believe the United States has been living under an evolving system of government since George Washington's presidency and is evolving now into a system of figurehead presidencies, with all political power residing in strong personalities behind the government—what Britons refer to as the "establishment."

They point to the disparity between what the American people think of personalities in politics and the politics of the personalities—and right now they point to the disparity between John F. Kennedy's personal popularity and his probable political influence in the approaching Congress.

Or they point to the fact that the late Robert A. Taft had more political influence in Congress than Harry Truman had when Taft, Republican leader of the Senate, was the acknowledged leader of a bipartisan conservative majority and Truman was the frustrated figurehead of a liberal minority.

Or they point to the singular oddity of Lyndon B. Johnson's dominant political power as Democratic leader of the Senate when Mr. Eisenhower was enjoying unprecedented presidential popularity as leader of the Republican party.

WHITE HOUSE occupants are becoming public symbols, like the presidents of France, or in another sense like the royal family of Great Britain. It is a matter of deep concern whether or not they are popular. But what they think about political question is not of paramount importance.

Their personal influence varies, but it is principally important in the continuity of government, not in the determination of day-to-day political decisions.

Actually, to suggest that this is the way it is now is only to suggest that this is the way it always was, with exceptions.

President Kennedy himself may be an exception, but after one year on the job, with his personal popularity rising and no corresponding improvement seen likely in his political influence, he looks more like the unexceptional.

Business-Like, Honest Approach

New administrations in various capacities —municipal, school boards, etc. — are assuming their duties in many district communities.

Their problems, as always, will be many and complex. Complaints again will outnumber compliments. The life of a public official is not always a pleasant one.

All that can be asked is that those serving never lose sight of their responsibilities to the people — those who elected them. With the taxpayers' money in their trust, a business -like approach to all matters is imperative. Serious thought is in order before the tax dollars are turned loose.

And above all, honesty must be the keynote. There will be mistakes, public officials being human. As long as they are honest mistakes they can be borne to a degree by the taxpayers. But any compromise in the direction of questionable activities cannot be condoned.

A look at the new year would not be complete without another word of caution about organized gambling.

While there undoubtedly are some instances where the law is being snubbed, the record shows that on the whole Columbiana County is free of the organized gambling that has led to unfavorable situations in neighboring areas in both Ohio and West Virginia. The lid must remain on during 1962 and the years ahead.

Adherence to the above should assure competent administrations in all fields throughout Columbiana County.

Sound Advice

"We believe that courts should be hard on teen-agers because we are more impressionable than adults."

This is the advice of the delegates to the sixth annual Ohio Youth Traffic Safety conference at Columbus.

Local and district courts should take the delegates at their word. The lessons young drivers learn today could save lives tomorrow—including their own.

Russia, China And Coexistence

Not everything Nikita Khrushchev says makes sense.

Sometimes he talks to keep the air full of confusion.

He is a master in the art of dialectics. No man can be premier of the Soviet Union without a full understanding of this art, which is essentially the art of confusion.

But one thing Premier Krushchev says does not sound as if he meant it to be confusing. He sounds as if he was trying earnestly to clarify something when he tells the Communists in China he thinks Russia's policy of coexistence should be their policy too.

WHEN KHRUSHCHEV talks about Chinese policy, he is talking about Russia's foremost point of international concern.

The People's Republic of China is the only Communist country large enough to attack Russia.

Though Khrushchev talks as if he expected the United States to attack Russia, or perhaps for the attack to come from Britain, he knows Russia needs to fear only one potential antagonist—its neighbor China. No one else is addicted to the idea of total destruction.

The only way Russia could be attacked, except by China, would be through an alliance of its own designated victims, and such an alliance for offensive purposes would be unthinkable. It has been only partly successful for defensive purposes.

But an industrialized China could attack Russia with a fair chance of overwhelming it. Khrushchev knows this. The Chinese Communists know it.

EVERYBODY who knows what happens when strong contenders believing the same thing come to power at the same time senses the likelihood of a clash between Communist Russia and Communist China.

With the leaders of Communist China having taken a strong position for world conquest, it is no mystery why Khrushchev believes in coexistence.

If there is to be no coexistence, there is going to be no Soviet Union on or about the time Khrushchev's grandchildren are ready to struggle with the terms of survival in a dog-eat-dog world.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Not enjoyment and not sorrow
Is our destined end of way;
Let us ask that each tomorrow
Be much shorter than today.

Now the daily scenes remind us
Of more time out in the sun—
If we leave the job behind us
When our work has just begun

Let us then be up and doing
Making of our life a "ball";
Jobs we all should be pursuing
Where we don't show up at all.

Turbine (jet) auto now in California after coast-to-coast test. Auto industry has decided that 60 years are long enough to wait for people to learn to drive gasoline models.

A 50-foot yacht was parked in midtown New York lot pending removal to boat show. New Year's eve celebrator, parking car beside it, exclaimed "One of us must be drifting."

AUTOMATED SUBWAY train is ahead. In New York it is getting test, with union consenting with understanding it will carry motorman on experimental trials in shuttle from Times Square to Grand Central. Motorman should be loneliest on earth.

In all fairness he should be allowed the company of a pinochle player, a man who can do card tricks and a psychiatrist to answer his question, "All I know is I feel useless. I keep thinking a monster is hovering over me. Can you help me?"

It's a dull ride, especially if motorman knows he is playing second fiddle to wonders of scientific engineering. He won't be consoled by frequent message from Mike Quill (in outer space) saying "I am with you in spirit, on or off TV. Stay happy."

Washington's long instructions on booklet on fallout shelters are causing many people to say "Let's start digging. We can do it in less time than it takes them to read the pamphlet."

Remember away back when a fellow didn't feel ignorant if he wasn't a good student of world geography?

Representation Without Taxation

Missile Unions Ready Demands

By Victor Riesel

One day next month a labor leader will ask the Pentagon whether it lays off its admirals and generals during shift overs from one brand of weapons to a more "sophisticated" swifter lot.

Victor Riesel

Now there's a thought which tempts me. But I must rush on to report that the union chief is the outspoken Al J. Hayes. He leads hundreds of thousands of machinists who make the supersonic flying things — the Polaris, the Titan, the Minute Man, the Atlas and what the trade calls the space age horseless carriage, the Mercury capsule which has carried our most valorous astronauts into outer space.

Whether Mr. Hayes' voice will be raised in anger, I do not know. But he will be speaking at a "price tag conference" of union officials who might call a strike in the nation's biggest plants such as General Dynamics, Boeing, Douglas, Martin, Lockheed et al.

THEY MIGHT not strike, but we'll know what it is Mr. Hayes, president of the International Association of Machinists, and Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers (also in the missile business), will demand after they and their regional colleagues meet at the "Aircraft, Missile and Related Electronics Conference." This is scheduled for Feb. 19 in the Sheraton Park hotel at Washington.

Mr. Hayes will confer with his own people on the 19th. Then they will go into joint session with Reuther and his people on the 20th and 21st to plan joint demands and joint action. Against whom?

Nominally, they will be pushing their demands on the big corporations which once were organized in something called the Aircraft Industries Association, but they now have renamed themselves the Aero Space Industries of America.

The re-christening is a sign of the times. And it is evidence that the association's biggest customer is the United States government. This means that the real bargaining when you get basic, and you should, is between the two unions and the White House—via the Pentagon which does the ordering, and Defense Secretary McNamara who sets the policy and finally John Kennedy who pays the bills.

THIS IS MOSTLY a cost plus business. Which means that the government pays all costs, including any new wages and increased tabs for improved working conditions. The "plus" is the company profit. There are millions involved And, of course, JFK's promise to balance the budget.

The size of all this can be seen from the fact that 650,000 machinists are involved in this wizardry where much of the production is directed by memory tape running through brain machines.

Mr. Hayes and his colleagues are worried by the feast or famine approach of the government. In Long Island, for example, thousands may lose jobs when a Navy supersonic Jet F 105 fighter contract is completed at Republic Aircraft. The last time a contract ran out at the plant 5,000 men were laid off.

Word now comes that the Douglas plant at El Segunda, Calif., may close for lack of Navy orders — and 4,000 may be let out.

You can't blame the companies or the Pentagon if some bright lad comes up with a workable flying saucer instead of a jet-manned craft and a changeover is forced. But Mr. Hayes and his colleagues now will demand some sort of job security.

FURTHERMORE, they'll ask for higher severance pay. Also they will seek advance notice and consultation on the installation of new technological equipment — that automation again. They point out that no industry has automated so swiftly. "Rosie the Riveter," whom we middle-aged remember in the shipyards and aircraft plants of World War II, is gone. Now you put sheet metal in a machine and the tape rivets it by giving out with electrical impulses.

There are other more complex demands for a union shop, for federal retraining of laid-off workers, for higher pensions and for greater welfare benefits, etc. Also, the machinists nurse the big war head rockets on the missile sites — so the unions will ask for bigger "on site" special pay for being away from home.

These contracts with the jet and missile and electronic industry begin expiring in mid-February and then right on to next November.

These are determined unions. They, and not the tug of war between the steel unions and steel industry, will make the real labor headlines as the cold war abroad turns more icy.

Year Of Decision

By Earl Mazo

America's two-party system is facing a critical challenge in the national and state elections next November.

And the major burden is on the Republican party.

It must bound back impressively from its virtual habit as the loser — or waste away as a political apparatus of national scope, leaving the Democratic party without effective opposition at the highest levels of government.

At stake in the coming elections is the entire 435-member House of Representatives, 35 seats in the 100-member Senate and 35 of the 50 governorships.

Democrats presently hold commanding majorities, the ratio being 34 to 16 among the governors, 64 to 36 in the Senate, and 260 to 174 in the House (which has three vacancies.)

The Republican party's grave problem — an enormous opportunity — is pointed up by the fact that for a generation now, it has been commonplace for the Democrats to constitute the majority, and thus dominate public affairs.

Twice in the last 30 years, have the Republicans won control of Congress. And in all but two election years during that sweep of modern times the partisan balance among governors came out decidedly Democratic.

Now, with a popular and resourcefully - political Democrat in the White House and his party riding high in Congress and most state capitals, there is a strong possibility of Democratic party victory, (and rule,) becoming an American tradition.

Top-level Republicans are cognizant of the danger to their party and agree it has reached the point of decline where it must win —or wither.

And the critical election year is 1962.

Republican prospects for a comeback in the 1964 presidential election, and its hopes of ever winning control of the Senate in the forseeable future depend on the elections next November.

The Democratic party already has so many political treasures that its leaders wouldn't be displeased merely to hold their own in the coming nationwide contests.

But major gains are imperative to the Republican party.

Its three-pronged goal is to win:

1. Majority domination of the House of Representatives. This would give the party a center of power and authority in Washington, a base from which to expand, and control of investigating committees that would monitor the Democratic administration and expose shortcomings which may be found.

2. A net gain of three to six seats in the Senate. This is essential for Republicans. Otherwise it would be numerically impossible for them to achieve Senate majorities in the 1964 elections or even 1966.

3. A pick-up of five to eight governors. This increase begins developing a grass-roots party organization to cope with that of the Democrats.

All in all, those are mighty ambitious objectives.

Evasive Action

By David Lawrence

Decision Neglected On Economic Problems

Unpalatable news is often ignored as a new year begins. Wishful thinking is more pleasant and emphasis is rather on the optimistic side. Amid the somewhat laudatory reviews of President Kennedy's record thus far, there is almost no mention of the administration's biggest failure — its inability or unwillingness to come to grips with the greatest economic problem that faces this country in 1962.

David Lawrence

The talk instead is of federal spending for education and for medical care, for foreign aid and for projected trips to the moon. Meanwhile, here on earth, inside America, unemployment is at a high level, and there are no signs that any fundamental policy which will assure the creation of new jobs is being adopted.

A steel strike is threatened for next June, and feverish stockpiling against that hazard has already begun. This could bring about the same economic maladjustment that caused the 1960 recession.

Economists of the First National City Bank of New York, in their monthly bank letter for January, mince no words as they point to Mr. Kennedy's failure to deal effectively with the wage-price spiral when he had a chance to do so last month in speeches before the National Association of Manufacturers and the AFL-CIO.

The bank letter, which is widely read and respected by businessmen, says in part:

"The official pronouncements seem so mild as scarcely to constitute a wage stabilization policy at all. . . .

"From the standpoint of labor economics, the steel industry could be cited as a classic example of unions pricing members out of their jobs.

"EMPLOYMENT COSTS in steel, according to the American Iron and Steel Institute, have risen from $2.72 per hour in 1955 to $4 in 1961.

"The average number of production workers over this period has declined from 519,000 to 408,000.

"The present need of the industry is to hold the line. Yet one principal objective of the United Steelworkers is to cut the work week from 40 hours to 32 hours with no loss in pay.

"The idea is to make room in the industry for unemployed union members. But, by raising the cost of an hour's work as much as 25 per cent and requiring steel price increases if the industry is to remain solvent, the result would be to reduce the market for the metal and also production and man-hours of employment.

"In New York City, as 1961 drew to a close, electricians, who now have a 30-hour week, voted to go out on strike for a 20-hour week. Actually, the electricians have been working on a contractual 35-hour schedule, with the extra five hours paid at overtime rates for a weekly pay envelope—subject to deductions—of $165.

"One electrical contractor has figured that, if this pay should be given for 20 hours' work, the effect would be to raise the rate to $8.25 an hour—or really still more since overtime, at time-and-a-half or double-time, would need to be paid to get the work done."

YET THE KENNEDY administration, which knows that all this is going on, has not done anything to restrain the abuse of union power.

To accept big strikes is not the answer so far as business is concerned, for the companies really cannot afford them, and the unions are aware of this. Thus work stoppages have become a form of extortion which knows no limits.

Firemen Pick Officers And Hear Reports

Officers were elected and reports were presented on 1961 activities at the annual meeting of Newell volunteer firemen Sunday afternoon in the station.

Twenty attended, marking the first time in a number of years that a 100 per cent turnout was achieved for the annual meeting.

Firemen responded to 29 alarms last year, and estimated total damage caused by fires in the community and area at nearly $22,000. Firemen said the figure includes a $21,500 loss at the Globe Brick Co., where a fire razed a storage shed last summer.

Firemen elected Charles Lee, 430 Jefferson St., as president to succeed Vernon Betteridge. Pete Lamp was elected vice president; Earl Cordray, secretary; Floyd Wilson, assistant secretary; Phillip Pelley, treasurer, and Earl Flesch, five - year trustee.

Arch Coen, 217 Grant St., was returned as chief. He had filled an unexpired term since fall.

Dick Rayburn was elected assistant chief; Flesch, captain, and Fred McGillian, lieutenant.

Pelley presented reports on receipts and disbursements for the year, the fund drive and purchases of hose and helmets and other equipment.

Chief Coen extended thanks to residents of the community for reporting fires promptly and using caution during the year to help prevent fires.

Lunch was served by Wilson, Flesch and Rayburn. Rayburn and Bob Beckett will serve as reporters for 1962.

First regular meeting will be Jan. 15 at 6:30 p. m., when committees will be named for the year.

City Crew Opens Tree Collections

The street department today launched its annual citywide collection of discarded Christmas trees, scheduled to cover the entire First Ward in its first day's work.

In a drive that will continue through Friday, these streets will be covered Tuesday: E. 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th Sts., Broadway, Walnut St., Elm St., College St., Sugar St., Thompson Ave., Vine St., Blakeley St., Ravine St., Fawcett St., Bradshaw Ave., Ambrose Ave., Huston Ave., Laurel Alley, Bank St., Chester Ave., Riley Ave., Minerva St., Illinois Ave. and Oak St.

The collection Wednesday is set for: Morton St., Avondale St., Cadmus St., Sophia St., Daisy Alley, McKinnon Ave., Oak St., Riverview St., Perry Ave., North St., Pope Ave., Montgomery Ave., Jennings Ave., Smithfield St., Orchard Grove Ave.

Princeton Ave., Columbia Ave., Oliver St., Fairmont St., Highland Colony, Gardendale, Maplewood to the city limits, Park Blvd., Beechwood, Armstrong Ln., Mayberry Ln., Hill Blvd., Manor Ln., Midway Ln., Cain St. and St. Clair Ave.

Wellsville To Pick Up Discarded Yule Trees

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare of Wellsville today asked residents to place their old Christmas trees with their refuse to be picked up by the collection crew.

The collection of trees started Thursday and should be completed by Tuesday or Thursday of this week, Baldasare said.

He urgde the co-operation of the residents in putting the trees with the refuse deposits in order to speed the collection.

was in this three-minute interval that they hit. Visibility was about 20 yards.

Most of the victims were reported in the crowded train from Leeuwarden. The express is usually crowded on Monday mornings by people returning to work in the metropolitan area from weekends in the northern residential provinces.

It was unlikely that many foreigners were involved.

The Dutch radio canceled all light programs and it played serious music, interrupted at times by news bulletins on the crash.

Nine coaches were derailed—six from the express and three from the commuter train. One mowed down a transformer station as it rolled down an embankment.

The fog was so heavy that persons living near the scene were puzzled when they heard the collision.

"We could see nothing in the dense fog," said the farmer's wife, Mrs. Van Ossterom. "We thought at first a plane had crashed, but later we heard iron grating and realized that two trains had crashed. Almost immediately afterward, crying people came stumbling toward our farm."

Officials speculated that one of the engineers may have missed a warning signal in the fog.

Death Claims Leader Of Church In Greece

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Theoclitos, archbishop of Athens and primate of all Greece, died today He was 73.

The head of the Greek Orthodox Church had been in ill health since he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage almost two months ago.

He displayed unusual preaching ability and in 1924 was ordained as assistant bishop. He became bishop of Calavryta in 1931, bishop of Patras in 1944, and was elected archbishop of Athens in 1957.

His life was dedicated to philanthropy and to his church and was marked by exceptional administrative ability and devotion.

Meeting Set Saturday For Board Of NCCW

LISBON — The second quarterly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Youngstown Diocesan Council of Catholic Women will be held Saturday at St. Michael's School in Canton, beginning with registration from 9:30 to 10 a.m., according to Mrs. Robert Carter of Summitville.

All deanery moderators, presidents, chairmen and members of the National Council have been invited to attend.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. Paul Granchi of Canton by Wednesday, Mrs. Carter said.

Quito is the capital of Ecuador.

Gosney Wins Support For Board's Post

County Democratic Chairman Don R. Gosney of Columbiana was endorsed unanimously for reappointment as a member of the County Election Board at a dinner meeting of the County Democratic Executive Committee Saturday night at the Valley Golf Club, near Columbiana.

The committee's endorsement will be forwarded to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus, guided by county committee choices.

Gosney has served on the board 10 years. The endorsement means he is in line for a new four-year term on the four-member board. The current term ends Feb. 28.

In a speech to the party leaders, Gosney declared he believes "the citizens of the county are entitled to know who is wasting the county's money in the Courthouse."

Then he cited big salary increases which he said were granted to the staff of one of the county office-holders, who is a Republican. However, he did not name the official.

Gosney said one employe was raised from $460 to $623; another from $405 to $568 and others were given varying boosts.

"While this is going on, they are demanding the Democrats cut salaries," he said.

Gosney also replied to a recent statement of County GOP Chairman Ernest U. Whitacre of near Salem, who had accused Auditor Kenneth Bell of "unreasonable delay" in completing the countywide reappraisal of real estate. Whitacre, in a speech to a Republican organization at Lisbon, had charged that procrastination had meant a year's delay in the effectiveness of the higher tax rates.

"My good friend Mr. Whitacre is wrong again, as usual," Gosney told the Executive Committee. "Mr. Whitacre should know the reappraisal will go on the tax duplicate this year and the 1962 taxes are not collected until 1963."

He praised Bell as "an outstanding public servant."

Gosney said Bell employed county residents — as many Republicans as Democrats — to make the real estate reappraisal.

On the statewide "draft DiSalle" movement, Gosney declared that: "The governor owes it to the Democratic party to say 'yes' or 'no'."

Panel Discussion Set For Westgate's PTA

A panel discussion on "Juvenile Delinquency From the School's Point of View" will feature the meeting of the Westgate Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the general purpose room.

Miss Mildred McGregor, assistant principal, will act as moderator. The panel will be comprised of Junior High instructors.

Mrs. Dale Franklin, president, will preside.

Firemen Pick Officers And Hear Reports

Officers were elected and reports were presented on 1961 activities at the annual meeting of Newell volunteer firemen Sunday afternoon in the station.

Twenty attended, marking the first time in a number of years that a 100 per cent turnout was achieved for the annual meeting.

Firemen responded to 29 alarms last year, and estimated total damage caused by fires in the community and area at nearly $22,000. Firemen said the figure includes a $21,500 loss at the Globe Brick Co., where a fire razed a storage shed last summer.

Firemen elected Charles Lee, 430 Jefferson St., as president to succeed Vernon Betteridge. Pete Lamp was elected vice president; Earl Cordray, secretary; Floyd Wilson, assistant secretary; Phillip Pelley, treasurer, and Earl Flesch, five - year trustee.

Arch Coen, 217 Grant St., was returned as chief. He had filled an unexpired term since fall.

Dick Rayburn was elected assistant chief; Flesch, captain, and Fred McGillian, lieutenant.

Pelley presented reports on receipts and disbursements for the year, the fund drive and purchases of hose and helmets and other equipment.

Chief Coen extended thanks to residents of the community for reporting fires promptly and using caution during the year to help prevent fires.

Lunch was served by Wilson, Flesch and Rayburn. Rayburn and Bob Beckett will serve as reporters for 1962.

First regular meeting will be Jan. 15 at 6:30 p. m., when committees will be named for the year.

City Crew Opens Tree Collections

The street department today launched its annual citywide collection of discarded Christmas trees, scheduled to cover the entire First Ward in its first day's work.

In a drive that will continue through Friday, these streets will be covered Tuesday: E. 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th Sts., Broadway, Walnut St., Elm St., College St., Sugar St., Thompson Ave., Vine St., Blakeley St., Ravine St., Fawcett St., Bradshaw Ave., Ambrose Ave., Huston Ave., Laurel Alley, Bank St., Chester Ave., Riley Ave., Minerva St., Illinois Ave. and Oak St.

The collection Wednesday is set for: Morton St., Avondale St., Cadmus St., Sophia St., Daisy Alley, McKinnon Ave., Oak St., Riverview St., Perry Ave., North St., Pope Ave., Montgomery Ave., Jennings Ave., Smithfield St., Orchard Grove Ave.

Princeton Ave., Columbia Ave., Oliver St., Fairmont St., Highland Colony, Gardendale, Maplewood to the city limits, Park Blvd., Beechwood, Armstrong Ln., Mayberry Ln., Hill Blvd., Manor Ln., Midway Ln., Cain St. and St. Clair Ave.

Wellsville To Pick Up Discarded Yule Trees

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare of Wellsville today asked residents to place their old Christmas trees with their refuse to be picked up by the collection crew.

The collection of trees started Thursday and should be completed by Tuesday or Thursday of this week, Baldasare said.

He urgde the co-operation of the residents in putting the trees with the refuse deposits in order to speed the collection.

Females of many mosquito species need blood to enable their eggs to mature.

Trains

was in this three-minute interval that they hit. Visibility was about 20 yards.

Most of the victims were reported in the crowded train from Leeuwarden. The express is usually crowded on Monday mornings by people returning to work in the metropolitan area from weekends in the northern residential provinces.

It was unlikely that many foreigners were involved.

The Dutch radio canceled all light programs and it played serious music, interrupted at times by news bulletins on the crash.

Nine coaches were derailed—six from the express and three from the commuter train. One mowed down a transformer station as it rolled down an embankment.

The fog was so heavy that persons living near the scene were puzzled when they heard the collision.

"We could see nothing in the dense fog," said the farmer's wife, Mrs. Van Ossterom. "We thought at first a plane had crashed, but later we heard iron grating and realized that two trains had crashed. Almost immediately afterward, crying people came stumbling toward our farm."

Officials speculated that one of the engineers may have missed a warning signal in the fog.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I add a better flavor to baked apples?

A. A delicious dish to serve with roast pork is baked cranberry apples. Fill the cavity left in the apple after the core has been removed with cranberry sauce, and bake.

Q. How can I make a good job of cleaning a mop?

A. Try boiling it in an old pail half-full of water, in which a tablespoon of lye has been dissolved. Then rinse thoroughly, and your mop should be as good as new.

Q. How can I make a good cleaner for silk, satin, lace, or any cloth?

A. A paste made of granulated cornmeal and cleaning fluid makes a fine cleaner for these materials. Cover the soiled sections, leave on for a short time, then brush out thoroughly. This leaves no rings or streaks. When brushing silk, use a piece of velvet.

Kennedy

Massachusetts, chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, said the briefing touched on all of the trouble spots in the world.

He said there was no discussion of domestic issues, except for mention of the President's intention to ask for broad authority to negotiate tariffs.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate GOP leader, said that there was only broad discussion of international problems and very little questioning from the Congress members.

Kennedy has scheduled a breakfast meeting Tuesday with Democratic leaders of the Senate and House at which time he is expected to go into details about his legislative program.

Saltonstall said the President made no request for bipartisan support of his forthcoming program but limited his discussion today primarily to international matters.

The all-Democratic meeting Tuesday is likely to be devoted to the more controversial items which the administration hopes to develop as major political issues in this congressional election year.

These include the bitterly disputed health care program financed under the Social Security System, and a variety of education measures left over from the 1961 legislative wars.

Democratic congressional leaders have made it clear they expect a big furor over the reciprocal trade bill. They predict a satisfactory measure will be passed.

They are scratching their heads over what they expect to be the biggest problems of the 1962 session—the health care bill and the grade and high school grant measure.

A check indicates the votes are not available to get the health care legislation out of the House Ways and Means Committee, its first congressional hurdle.

Congress will convene at noon Wednesday, but no floor action of any kind will come before next week. Kennedy plans to deliver his State of the Union message in person to a joint session on Thursday.

The Senate already has half a dozen major bills on its calendar, ready for floor debate when scheduled by the majority leader.

These include the $2.67-billion college aid bill with funds for classroom loans, student scholarships and junior colleges; a pension-welfare fund regulatory bill; a bill to broaden the National Defense Education Act with loan funds for church school classroom construction for specified subjects; legislation to set up a department of urban affairs; a measure to establish a 150,000-member youth conservation corps; and an aid bill for cold war veterans.

City Girls Get Open Space Yen

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Two Oklahoma girls with a yen for open spaces are proving that a city working girl doesn't have to be bound to an apartment.

After two years as roommates in Tulsa, Donna Kuhlman, 25, and Joan Gregory, 31, moved to a farm.

"We just got tired of people yelling and tires squealing," they explained. "And most of all, we were getting a little wide in the wrong places sitting around with nothing to do."

That was before last June, when they moved to a six-acre farm on the fringe of the city, only five minutes by expressway from their jobs in Tulsa. "We don't have much time to get bored any more," Donna said. "Taking care of the yard nearly worked us to death last summer."

Next summer they plan to put in a garden, install some chickens and reseed the pasture. They may add a calf to the farm's livestock, which now includes seven cats and two horses.

Hungarian Food Has Some Italian Flavor

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Take the culinary arts of Hungary and Italy, blend them together and the result is highly edible.

Hungary's Renaissance King Matthias started it when he married an Italian princess.

To appease her homesickness he imported cheeses, spices, condiments and other foodstuffs from Italy.

Bonfini, King Matthias's court chronicler, wrote that the queen sent a message to her sister in Ferrara, thanking her for onions and garlic received.

"If they had been made of pearls, the King and I could have been no happier," she wrote.

When the King expected guests for dinner, he would personally supervise the cooking, according to Bonfini.

The Dead Sea, which is so salty fish cannot live in it, is rich in carnallite, a source of potassium.

Children Blamed In Church Fires

Eight children, six boys and two girls ranging in age from 5 to 10, set numerous small fires inside the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church at Wellsville Saturday evening.

The children entered the church sometime between 4 and 6 p. m. and used straw from a crib set and church candles to ignite the numerous blazes, according to Fr. Gerald Curran, pastor.

Fr. Curran said there were 200 candles burning when he went to investigate noises. All of the children were taken into custody by Wellsville police. They were turned over to the church authorities.

Fr. Curran said some of them were spotted climbing up the outside of the church wall and were at least 15 feet up.

Fr. Curran also reported that vandals stole a first aid kit from the church's school bus Sunday night and siphoned a half a tank of gasoline from the bus Friday night. They also stole a lock gas cap from the bus.

Route 30 Crash Hurts Chester Area Woman

A Chester area woman was injured in a two-car crash on a sharp curve of the Route 30 Chester Hill Sunday night, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported today.

Della Dennis, 19, was treated at City Hospital for contusions of the left temple area received when her 1961 model auto and the car of Charles David Price Jr., 22, of Beaver Falls, collided.

Deputies logged the mishap at 11:10. They said Price was eastbound, while the Chester woman was traveling west.

Price was cited on a charge of failure to have his auto under control, deputies said.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I add a better flavor to baked apples?

A. A delicious dish to serve with roast pork is baked cranberry apples. Fill the cavity left in the apple after the core has been removed with cranberry sauce, and bake.

Q. How can I make a good job of cleaning a mop?

A. Try boiling it in an old pail half-full of water, in which a tablespoon of lye has been dissolved. Then rinse thoroughly, and your mop should be as good as new.

Q. How can I make a good cleaner for silk, satin, lace, or any cloth?

A. A paste made of granulated cornmeal and cleaning fluid makes a fine cleaner for these materials. Cover the soiled sections, leave on for a short time, then brush out thoroughly. This leaves no rings or streaks. When brushing silk, use a piece of velvet.

Kennedy

Massachusetts, chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, said the briefing touched on all of the trouble spots in the world.

He said there was no discussion of domestic issues, except for mention of the President's intention to ask for broad authority to negotiate tariffs.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate GOP leader, said that there was only broad discussion of international problems and very little questioning from the Congress members.

Kennedy has scheduled a breakfast meeting Tuesday with Democratic leaders of the Senate and House at which time he is expected to go into details about his legislative program.

Saltonstall said the President made no request for bipartisan support of his forthcoming program but limited his discussion today primarily to international matters.

The all-Democratic meeting Tuesday is likely to be devoted to the more controversial items which the administration hopes to develop as major political issues in this congressional election year.

These include the bitterly disputed health care program financed under the Social Security System, and a variety of education measures left over from the 1961 legislative wars.

Democratic congressional leaders have made it clear they expect a big furor over the reciprocal trade bill. They predict a satisfactory measure will be passed.

They are scratching their heads over what they expect to be the biggest problems of the 1962 session—the health care bill and the grade and high school grant measure.

A check indicates the votes are not available to get the health care legislation out of the House Ways and Means Committee, its first congressional hurdle.

Congress will convene at noon Wednesday, but no floor action of any kind will come before next week. Kennedy plans to deliver his State of the Union message in person to a joint session on Thursday.

The Senate already has half a dozen major bills on its calendar, ready for floor debate when scheduled by the majority leader.

These include the $2.67-billion college aid bill with funds for classroom loans, student scholarships and junior colleges; a pension-welfare fund regulatory bill; a bill to broaden the National Defense Education Act with loan funds for church school classroom construction for specified subjects; legislation to set up a department of urban affairs; a measure to establish a 150,000-member youth conservation corps; and an aid bill for cold war veterans.

City Girls Get Open Space Yen

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Two Oklahoma girls with a yen for open spaces are proving that a city working girl doesn't have to be bound to an apartment.

After two years as roommates in Tulsa, Donna Kuhlman, 25, and Joan Gregory, 31, moved to a farm.

"We just got tired of people yelling and tires squealing," they explained. "And most of all, we were getting a little wide in the wrong places sitting around with nothing to do."

That was before last June, when they moved to a six-acre farm on the fringe of the city, only five minutes by expressway from their jobs in Tulsa. "We don't have much time to get bored any more," Donna said. "Taking care of the yard nearly worked us to death last summer."

Next summer they plan to put in a garden, install some chickens and reseed the pasture. They may add a calf to the farm's livestock, which now includes seven cats and two horses.

Hungarian Food Has Some Italian Flavor

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Take the culinary arts of Hungary and Italy, blend them together and the result is highly edible.

Hungary's Renaissance King Matthias started it when he married an Italian princess.

To appease her homesickness he imported cheeses, spices, condiments and other foodstuffs from Italy.

Bonfini, King Matthias's court chronicler, wrote that the queen sent a message to her sister in Ferrara, thanking her for onions and garlic received.

"If they had been made of pearls, the King and I could have been no happier," she wrote.

When the King expected guests for dinner, he would personally supervise the cooking, according to Bonfini.

The Dead Sea, which is so salty fish cannot live in it, is rich in carnallite, a source of potassium.

Children Blamed In Church Fires

Eight children, six boys and two girls ranging in age from 5 to 10, set numerous small fires inside the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church at Wellsville Saturday evening.

The children entered the church sometime between 4 and 6 p. m. and used straw from a crib set and church candles to ignite the numerous blazes, according to Fr. Gerald Curran, pastor.

Fr. Curran said there were 200 candles burning when he went to investigate noises. All of the children were taken into custody by Wellsville police. They were turned over to the church authorities.

Fr. Curran said some of them were spotted climbing up the outside of the church wall and were at least 15 feet up.

Fr. Curran also reported that vandals stole a first aid kit from the church's school bus Sunday night and siphoned a half a tank of gasoline from the bus Friday night. They also stole a lock gas cap from the bus.

Miss Roberta Marshall, Seaman J. A. Fickle Wed

Miss Roberta Jean Marshall wore a princess crown of seed pearls and crystals when she became the bride of Seaman John Austin Fickle on Saturday, Dec. 30, at 12 o'clock noon at St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow J. Marshall, 1123 Vine St., and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John A. Fickle, 1896 Anderson Blvd.

Fr. Joseph R. Bennett, assistant pastor, officiated for the double - ring ceremony before an altar background of lighted pines, poinsettias and seven-branch candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Mrs. George Hargraves sang "Ave Maria" and the Mass responses. Miss Kay Hocking was at the organ for the High Nuptial Mass.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a full-length gown of Chantilly lace and taffeta. The Basque bodice was designed with a scalloped Sabrina neckline, outlined with pearls and sequins, and long, tapered sleeves.

Alternating tiers of lace and tulle formed back accent and tulle inserts, dotted with pearl and sequin applique, highlighted the front. Her fingertip veil was of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, lily-of-the-valley and satin streamers, centered with a white orchid. Her cultured pearl earrings was the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Sue Diane Marshall, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a sheath dress of coral crystallette, fashioned with an overskirt of silk organza. A scalloped neckline and long, tapered sleeves highlighted the fitted bodice.

Miss Mary Ellen Stoffel and Miss Carol Wotring were bridesmaids and wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor, except in yellow. All wore matching Dior bows and carried Colonial bouquets of white carnations tied with satin streamers. Gifts from the bride were pearl necklaces with matching earrings.

Kathy Ann Marshall and Suzanne Marie Pallard, cousins of the bride, were flower girls. They wore matching dresses of green embroidered crystallette with crowns of white flowers as headpieces. Their necklaces were gifts of the bride and they carried Colonial bouquets of white carnations and satin streamers.

Jerry Wagoner was best man.

MRS. J. A. FICKLE
Bride In Rites Of Dec. 30.

Bernie Kenney and Jim Crawford were ushers. They received cuff link sets from the bridegroom. Jimmy W. Marshall, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

The mother of the bride chose a black wool jersey sheath with black and white embroidered jacket, matching accessories and red rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a beige brocade sheath with matching jacket and accessories and corsage of white carnations tipped with green.

A reception for 175 followed at the Parochial School under the supervision of Court Dunne 937, Catholic Daughters of America, with Mrs. Delores Brown chairman. The bridal table, covered with a satin cloth, was centered with a four-tier cake topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Out-of-town guests were from Bellevue, Castle Shannon, Pittsburgh, Steubenville, Chester and Newell.

Following a honeymoon in Pennsylvania, the bridegroom left for the Great Lakes (Ill.) Naval Training Station where he will complete his basic training on Friday. He is a 1960 graduate of East Liverpool High School, attended Youngstown University and worked part - time in the Display Advertising Department of The Review.

His wife will remain with her parents. She is a 1961 graduate of the high school and is receptionist for the Smith & Phillips Co. For traveling, she wore a royal blue suit with white fur hat and her bridal orchid.

The bridegroom's parents entertained for the rehearsal party.

Miss Roberta Marshall, Seaman J. A. Fickle Wed

Miss Roberta Jean Marshall wore a princess crown of seed pearls and crystals when she became the bride of Seaman John Austin Fickle on Saturday, Dec. 30, at 12 o'clock noon at St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow J. Marshall, 1123 Vine St., and her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John A. Fickle, 1896 Anderson Blvd.

Fr. Joseph R. Bennett, assistant pastor, officiated for the double - ring ceremony before an altar background of lighted pines, poinsettias and seven-branch candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Mrs. George Hargraves sang "Ave Maria" and the Mass responses. Miss Kay Hocking was at the organ for the High Nuptial Mass.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a full-length gown of Chantilly lace and taffeta. The Basque bodice was designed with a scalloped Sabrina neckline, outlined with pearls and sequins, and long, tapered sleeves.

Alternating tiers of lace and tulle formed back accent and tulle inserts, dotted with pearl and sequin applique, highlighted the front. Her fingertip veil was of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, lily-of-the-valley and satin streamers, centered with a white orchid. Her cultured pearl earrings was the gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Sue Diane Marshall, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a sheath dress of coral crystallette, fashioned with an overskirt of silk organza. A scalloped neckline and long, tapered sleeves highlighted the fitted bodice.

Miss Mary Ellen Stoffel and Miss Carol Wotring were bridesmaids and wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor, except in yellow. All wore matching Dior bows and carried Colonial bouquets of white carnations tied with satin streamers. Gifts from the bride were pearl necklaces with matching earrings.

Kathy Ann Marshall and Suzanne Marie Pallard, cousins of the bride, were flower girls. They wore matching dresses of green embroidered crystallette with crowns of white flowers as headpieces. Their necklaces were gifts of the bride and they carried Colonial bouquets of white carnations and satin streamers.

Jerry Wagoner was best man.

MRS. J. A. FICKLE
Bride In Rites Of Dec. 30.

Bernie Kenney and Jim Crawford were ushers. They received cuff link sets from the bridegroom. Jimmy W. Marshall, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

The mother of the bride chose a black wool jersey sheath with black and white embroidered jacket, matching accessories and red rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a beige brocade sheath with matching jacket and accessories and corsage of white carnations tipped with green.

A reception for 175 followed at the Parochial School under the supervision of Court Dunne 937, Catholic Daughters of America, with Mrs. Delores Brown chairman. The bridal table, covered with a satin cloth, was centered with a four-tier cake topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Out-of-town guests were from Bellevue, Castle Shannon, Pittsburgh, Steubenville, Chester and Newell.

Following a honeymoon in Pennsylvania, the bridegroom left for the Great Lakes (Ill.) Naval Training Station where he will complete his basic training on Friday. He is a 1960 graduate of East Liverpool High School, attended Youngstown University and worked part - time in the Display Advertising Department of The Review.

His wife will remain with her parents. She is a 1961 graduate of the high school and is receptionist for the Smith & Phillips Co. For traveling, she wore a royal blue suit with white fur hat and her bridal orchid.

The bridegroom's parents entertained for the rehearsal party.

BELATED MIDLAND CHRISTMAS. Happy youngsters of Serbian extraction at Midland gathered at the Serbian National Home Saturday night, Christmas Eve, to visit with Santa, who distributed gifts. Also shown is Fr. Milorad Dobrota, pastor of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church, who conducted the traditional Yule Log ceremony prior to Santa's arrival. A parade preceded the ceremony. Christmas (Rozdestvo Hristovo) services were held at midnight at the church and Sunday at 10 a. m. with the Divine Liturgy of St. Basil the Great. Caroling was scheduled Sunday afternoon and again tonight at 6 by choirs of the church. The Divine Liturgy of St. John Chrysostom was said this morning at 10. New Year's Night on the Adriatic will be celebrated Jan. 13 at 9 p. m. at the Serbian National Home with a musical program and dance sponsored by the Dr. Laza Kostich Choir. The Orthodox Christmas follows the Julian Calendar.

Men Injured In 2 Crashes In Rural Area

Two persons were injured slightly in four separate traffic crashes in the district over the weekend, the Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported today.

A Salem area man was injured when his car overturned near Hanoverton Saturday morning and a Lisbon area man was hurt when the car operated by his wife went off Route 7 early Sunday morning.

Robert Beadnell, 21, of Salem R. D. 2 suffered a slight concussion and abrasions of the chest when his north-bound car went off the right side of Route 9 and rolled over about a mile north of Hanoverton Saturday at 1:15 a.m. He was treated by a Hanoverton physician.

Carroll G. Pickens, 38, of Lisbon R.D. 3 suffered lacerations and bruises of the lower lip when the car operated by his wife, Mrs. Janell C. Pickens, 33, crashed near the junction of Routes 7 and 30 Sunday at 1:30 a. m.

The patrol said Mrs. Pickens was south-bound on Route 7 when she lost control, ran off a curve on the right side of the road and struck an embankment. Pickens was treated at Salem City Hospital.

Joe Andy Jr., 20, of Washington, Pa., escaped uninjured when his north-bound car went off the left side of Route 45 two miles north of Lisbon, went through a fence, and struck a post of Ohio Fuel Gas Co. The fence is owned by Frank Miller of Follansbee.

Andy, who apparently fell asleep at the wheel, was cited on a charge of driving left of center after the mishap at 2:10 p. m. Saturday.

Earl Adams Jr., 38, of Johnstown, Pa., escaped unhurt when his west-bound car slid on ice and rammed a bridge abutment on Route 30, a mile west of Lisbon, Sunday at 6:35 a. m. There was minor damage to his car, the patrol said.

Coin Machine Rifled During City Burglary

A burglar who forced his way into an East End auto agency Saturday night or early Sunday obtained $8 from a rifled soft drink machine, police reported.

The entry at Arb Motor Sales, 1340 Pennsylvania Ave., was timed between 6:30 p. m. Saturday and 7:50 a. m. yesterday, officers said. The loot was comprised of $4 in dimes and four $1 bills, officers said.

Entry was gained into the shop area by breaking a window on the south side of the building, police said. The company's offices were ransacked and papers were scattered in an apparent search for valuables, but the money from the soft drink machine apparently was the only loss, police said. Several desk drawers also were pried open, police said.

Meanwhile, theft of a paint spraying outfit valued at $217 was reported by Robert Wycoff, 319 Vine St. He said the equipment was taken from his parked 1960 model station wagon at his home between 2 and 8:15 a. m. Saturday.

The thief forced a wing window on the left side of the vehicle to gain entry, Wycoff said. The loss included a half-horsepower air compressor with a 20 - gallon tank and a hand spray gun with 12 feet of rubber hose, he said.

Three more cases of theft and vandalism were reported.

Howard S. Hoffman, 1304 Perry Ave., told police the right front window of his 1956 model auto was shattered by an unknown vandal while it was parked in the 700 block of Dresden Ave. between 10:45 p. m. Friday and 1:02 a. m. Saturday.

George Crossen, 807 St. Clair Ave., told police a 10-x-24-inch window was broken in a trailer which he owns between 5:30 p. m. Thursday and 8:30 a. m. Friday while it was parked on a lot in the 1600 block of Pennsylvania Ave.

Steve Horvat, 317 Rural Ln., reported to police Friday at 11:22 p. m. the front door of his home was kicked by an unknown person, breaking the door jamb.

Clean Stream Project Seen Almost Ended

A 13-year-old campaign to clean up pollution in the Ohio River basin is 90 per cent complete, but immediate policing is needed to crack down on individuals and firms who continue to contaminate the water, the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission said in a weekend report.

The commission's report was filed with the governors of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, New York, Virginia and West Virginia.

It disclosed that Youngstown and Terre Haute, Ind., are the only two large cities in the watershed that have not installed sewage treatment facilities.

It said that of 1,170 industrial plants along the Ohio River and its tributaries, 1,286 have installed "acceptable" pollution controls and another 280 are working on the problem.

ORSANCO said community sewage treatment facilities now serve or are being constructed to serve nearly 10 million persons. Specific control measures for acid water drainiage from strip and deep coal mines have been worked out and recommended to the coal industry, it added.

Edward J. Cleary, executive director of the commission, said in the report:

"There are still many obvious evidences of pollution because of continued delinquencies of some municipalities and industries and from incompetent or careless operation of existing control facilities.

"In brief, the interstate program has advanced to the point where policing — expansion of inspection and river patrol coupled with prompt challenging of violators — claims priority.

"We have matured to the point where 97 per cent of the Ohio Valley population has sewage treatment. What we must concentrate on now is efficient policing and control to protect our billion dollar investment."

Ordination Rites Held For Pastor

James K. Smith, student pastor of the Hookstown and Mill Creek Presbyterian Churches, was ordained into the ministry of the United Presbyterian Church Sunday at the Dormont Presbyterian Church.

BELATED MIDLAND CHRISTMAS. Happy youngsters of Serbian extraction at Midland gathered at the Serbian National Home Saturday night, Christmas Eve, to visit with Santa, who distributed gifts. Also shown is Fr. Milorad Dobrota, pastor of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church, who conducted the traditional Yule Log ceremony prior to Santa's arrival. A parade preceded the ceremony. Christmas (Rozdestvo Hristovo) services were held at midnight at the church and Sunday at 10 a. m. with the Divine Liturgy of St. Basil the Great. Caroling was scheduled Sunday afternoon and again tonight at 6 by choirs of the church. The Divine Liturgy of St. John Chrysostom was said this morning at 10. New Year's Night on the Adriatic will be celebrated Jan. 13 at 9 p. m. at the Serbian National Home with a musical program and dance sponsored by the Dr. Laza Kostich Choir. The Orthodox Christmas follows the Julian Calendar.

Men Injured In 2 Crashes In Rural Area

Two persons were injured slightly in four separate traffic crashes in the district over the weekend, the Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported today.

A Salem area man was injured when his car overturned near Hanoverton Saturday morning and a Lisbon area man was hurt when the car operated by his wife went off Route 7 early Sunday morning.

Robert Beadnell, 21, of Salem R. D. 2 suffered a slight concussion and abrasions of the chest when his north-bound car went off the right side of Route 9 and rolled over about a mile north of Hanoverton Saturday at 1:15 a.m. He was treated by a Hanoverton physician.

Carroll G. Pickens, 38, of Lisbon R.D. 3 suffered lacerations and bruises of the lower lip when the car operated by his wife, Mrs. Janell C. Pickens, 33, crashed near the junction of Routes 7 and 30 Sunday at 1:30 a. m.

The patrol said Mrs. Pickens was south-bound on Route 7 when she lost control, ran off a curve on the right side of the road and struck an embankment. Pickens was treated at Salem City Hospital.

Joe Andy Jr., 20, of Washington, Pa., escaped uninjured when his north-bound car went off the left side of Route 45 two miles north of Lisbon, went through a fence, and struck a post of Ohio Fuel Gas Co. The fence is owned by Frank Miller of Follansbee.

Andy, who apparently fell asleep at the wheel, was cited on a charge of driving left of center after the mishap at 2:10 p. m. Saturday.

Earl Adams Jr., 38, of Johnstown, Pa., escaped unhurt when his west-bound car slid on ice and rammed a bridge abutment on Route 30, a mile west of Lisbon, Sunday at 6:35 a. m. There was minor damage to his car, the patrol said.

Coin Machine Rifled During City Burglary

A burglar who forced his way into an East End auto agency Saturday night or early Sunday obtained $8 from a rifled soft drink machine, police reported.

The entry at Arb Motor Sales, 1340 Pennsylvania Ave., was timed between 6:30 p. m. Saturday and 7:50 a. m. yesterday, officers said. The loot was comprised of $4 in dimes and four $1 bills, officers said.

Entry was gained into the shop area by breaking a window on the south side of the building, police said. The company's offices were ransacked and papers were scattered in an apparent search for valuables, but the money from the soft drink machine apparently was the only loss, police said. Several desk drawers also were pried open, police said.

Meanwhile, theft of a paint spraying outfit valued at $217 was reported by Robert Wycoff, 319 Vine St. He said the equipment was taken from his parked 1960 model station wagon at his home between 2 and 8:15 a. m. Saturday.

The thief forced a wing window on the left side of the vehicle to gain entry, Wycoff said. The loss included a half-horsepower air compressor with a 20 - gallon tank and a hand spray gun with 12 feet of rubber hose, he said.

Three more cases of theft and vandalism were reported.

Howard S. Hoffman, 1304 Perry Ave., told police the right front window of his 1956 model auto was shattered by an unknown vandal while it was parked in the 700 block of Dresden Ave. between 10:45 p. m. Friday and 1:02 a. m. Saturday.

George Crossen, 807 St. Clair Ave., told police a 10-x-24-inch window was broken in a trailer which he owns between 5:30 p. m. Thursday and 8:30 a. m. Friday while it was parked on a lot in the 1600 block of Pennsylvania Ave.

Steve Horvat, 317 Rural Ln., reported to police Friday at 11:22 p. m. the front door of his home was kicked by an unknown person, breaking the door jamb.

Clean Stream Project Seen Almost Ended

A 13-year-old campaign to clean up pollution in the Ohio River basin is 90 per cent complete, but immediate policing is needed to crack down on individuals and firms who continue to contaminate the water, the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission said in a weekend report.

The commission's report was filed with the governors of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, New York, Virginia and West Virginia.

It disclosed that Youngstown and Terre Haute, Ind., are the only two large cities in the watershed that have not installed sewage treatment facilities.

It said that of 1,170 industrial plants along the Ohio River and its tributaries, 1,286 have installed "acceptable" pollution controls and another 280 are working on the problem.

Clarkson Unit Sets Meeting

The Women's Association of the United Presbyterian Church of Clarkson will meet tonight at 7:30 in the church for installation of officers for 1962.

Mrs. Mildred Welce, president, will preside. Mrs. Evelyn Hauserman and Mrs. Dorothy Gamble will lead the discussion hour. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Mildred Hole and Mrs. Edith Welce.

Miss Janetta Jenkins of Long Beach, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Coolidge and family of Cantone were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Smith.

Mrs. Dorothy Davis was elected lecturer when Clarkson Grange met Thursday night. She succeeds Mrs. Herbert Virden, who resigned. Mrs. Edith Thompson was elected as pomona. Reuben Lunger, master, presided.

The ways and means committee presented a report when the Mother's Club of Rogers Elementary School met Thursday in the school. Mrs. Dorothy Sienert president, presided.

Teachers extended appreciation for playground equipment purchased recently for the pupils by the club.

Plans were made to hold a Valentine card party in the Grange hall Feb. 13. Next meeting is Feb. 1.

Driver Dragged By Drifting Car

A city man suffered leg injuries when dragged along the ground 12 to 15 feet by his car as he was attempting to keep it from drifting in the parking lot at the No. 4 Plant at Homer Laughlin China Co. at Newell early today.

Robert Stoffel, 45, of 744 Minerva St. suffered abrasions and contusions of the left knee, leg and ankle and right leg. He was treated and released at City Hospital at 6:50 a. m. after being X-rayed.

Stoffel said he had just parked his car in the lot prior to entering the plant to go to work. He said one of the fenders was caught on a small steel post used to mark the parking places. As he lifted the fender to free it, the car started drifting forward.

Stoffel said he had pulled the emergency brake but as the car started forward, he heard something click, indicating the brake had released.

He attempted to hold the car back but was dragged along the frozen ground before the front wheel dropped into a small hole and halted it.

Water Retention Disturbs Reducers

Ida Jean Kain

In reducing the unexpected always happens. You lose with pleasing suddenness at the start of a diet, or with discouraging slowness.

It's the water exchange that makes the difference. When you lose rapidly at the start, part of loss is in water, part in fat. When you fail to lose, even though you are sticking with the diet, the cause is water retention. The water which has resulted from the oxidation of food, is sometimes held in the body tissues.

To get the picture, understand that fat is stored in the body in individual cells, each of which holds a droplet of fat. When you cut calories, the fat in the cells is drawn on to make up the fuel deficit. When this occurs, the fat in some of the cells gets smaller and smaller...but when the space in the fat cells is taken up by water, the scales cannot register the loss until the water has been released.

THE WATER balance always adjusts. However, there will be periods of days or weeks during which the weight may stay at the same high mark, diet to the contrary.

When the fat globule in the cells is almost gone, then the water will be abruptly released, and removed through the kidneys. When this happens, the pointer on the scales will plunge.

Even the "impossible" can happen! One overweight, warned by his doctor to reduce 65 pounds, cut calories to 1,200 a day. For three weeks he did not lose a single pound. Determined, he stayed with the low calorie pattern, and during the fourth and fifth weeks his weight dropped 29 pounds!

This was followed by a lull in losing, but he subsequently lost the 65 pounds in a period of eight months...and kept them off.

Dieters, understand that water drinking has nothing to do with water retention. It is most important to drink plenty of water between meals. Start your day with a large glass of hot water with lemon juice.

Water drinking helps to prevent the constipation and fatigue that can result from dehydration. Restrict mealtime liquids to one cup. It's best not to sip ice water throughout the meal for this washes off the taste buds and whets appetite afresh.

The amount of salt in your food is a factor in water retention. Use only a moderate amount of salt in cooking and do not add salt at the table.

A HIGH protein intake effectively counteracts water storage. Build each of the three daily meals around a high value protein food.

When you realize that water retention does not prevent your reducing, but merely postpones the registration of the weight loss on the scales, you will want to persevere. Hold on dieters...one happy day that pointer will plunge.

Send a stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for "Choose To Lose Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

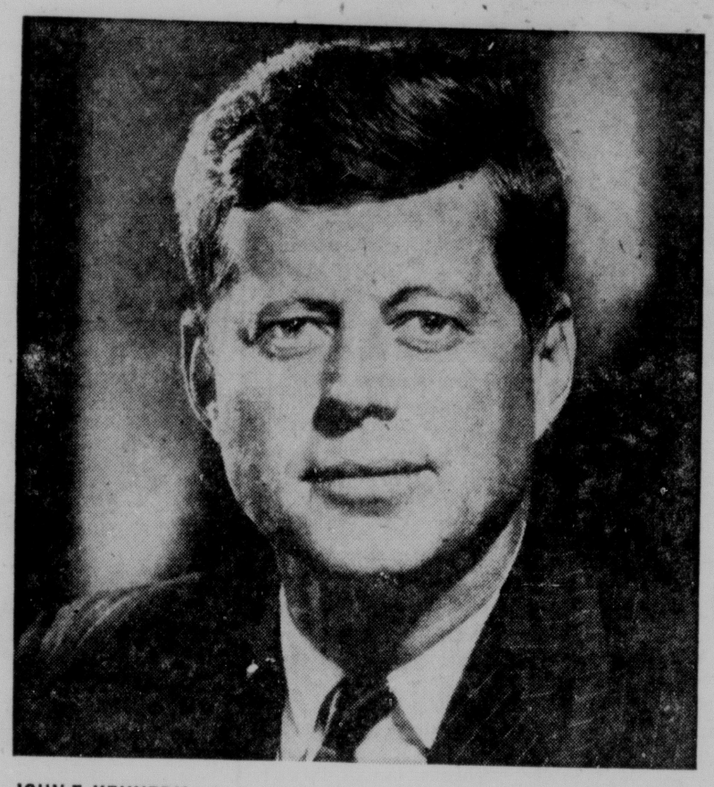
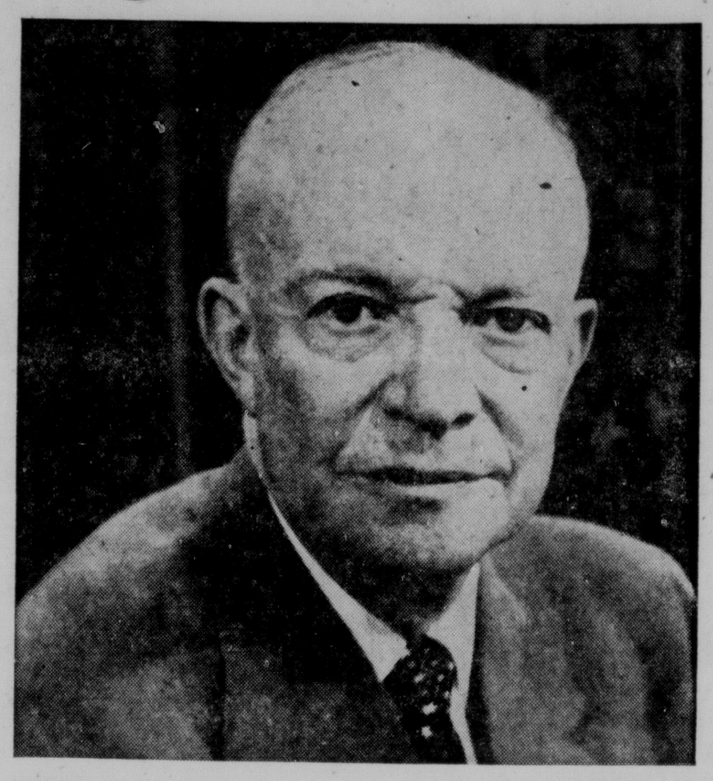
The Advertising Council

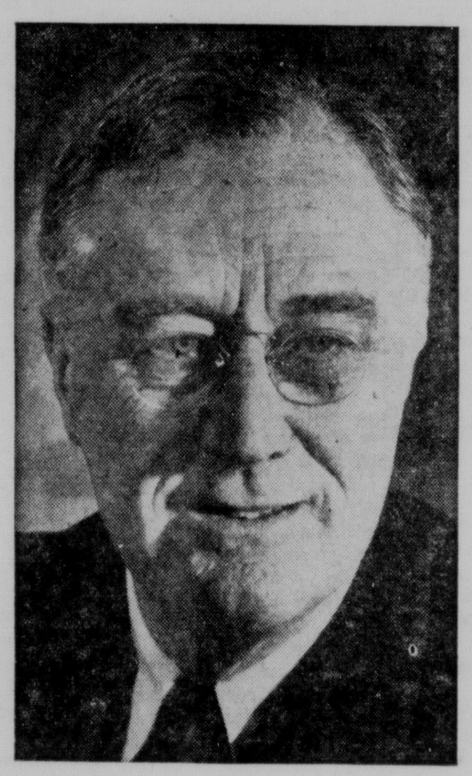


JOHN F. KENNEDY: "I congratulate and commend The Advertising Council for its two decades of public service to the U.S. Government in bringing important public messages to the American people. The Council can well be proud of its record in war and in peace. We shall continue to look to the Council for help in communicating a variety of essential public messages in these critical times."

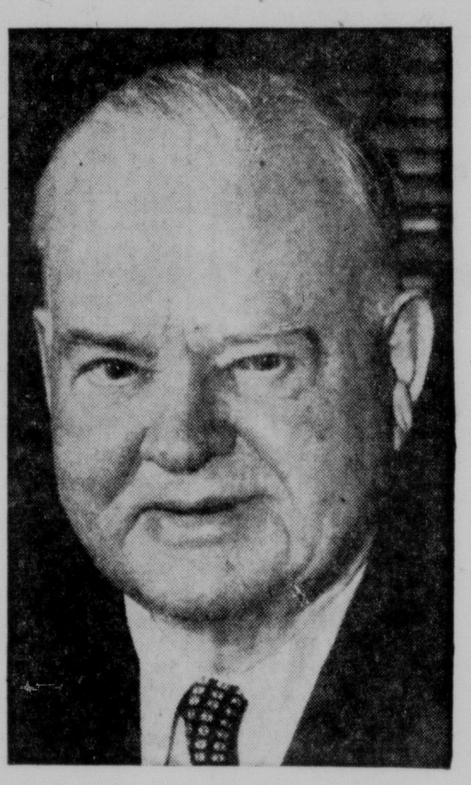


DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER: "The results of your work are obvious. The various Government departments whose programs you have done so much to forward have reason to be grateful to you. Your combined efforts have been worth many millions of dollars to our Government. When I spoke to your group on March twenty-fourth, I said I thought it one of the most important agencies in the country."

HARRY S. TRUMAN: "Beyond question, the dissemination of wartime information through advertising played a vital part in bringing to the people the story of what had to be done to speed victory. Our problems, unfortunately, did not end with the war, and there will be many vital ones which cannot be solved without the understanding cooperation of the people."



FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT: "The voluntary contribution made by advertising men and women under the Council's leadership has been of notable assistance to the Government's wartime information programs. I am gratified to learn that the Council plans to continue its public service, and I hope your work will receive the unqualified support of businessmen."



HERBERT HOOVER: "I congratulate the Council on twenty years' service to the non-partisan purposes of good government. I have had occasion to witness the effectiveness of the Council in raising funds to relieve the famines in Europe and in giving wide publication to the reports of the Commissions on Organization of the Executive Branch of Government."

The voluntary, unpaid work of The Advertising Council—for Government and for private causes—is simple to explain: Let the American people know about things that need doing and let them know how to go about it. The people pick it up from there.

Take a moment to look at the campaign symbols below. You may have worked in your own community in behalf of some of them. You may have bought Bonds, solicited funds or helped get out the vote. Whatever you did, you did freely by your own choice simply because the need was there.

The power behind all of these campaigns was supplied through The Advertising Council by advertising donated by American business—by companies, magazines, newspapers, broadcasting stations, networks, motion picture producers, outdoor and transit companies. Advertising agencies prepared the advertising campaigns free of charge.

In 1960 alone, the advertising donated to the Council's public service campaigns added up to 226 million dollars.

Not a penny of tax money was spent for it.

The work is not finished. In today's cold war the need is as great as in yesterday's hot war. On the occasion of its twentieth anniversary, The Advertising Council reconfirms its pledge of support. How about you?

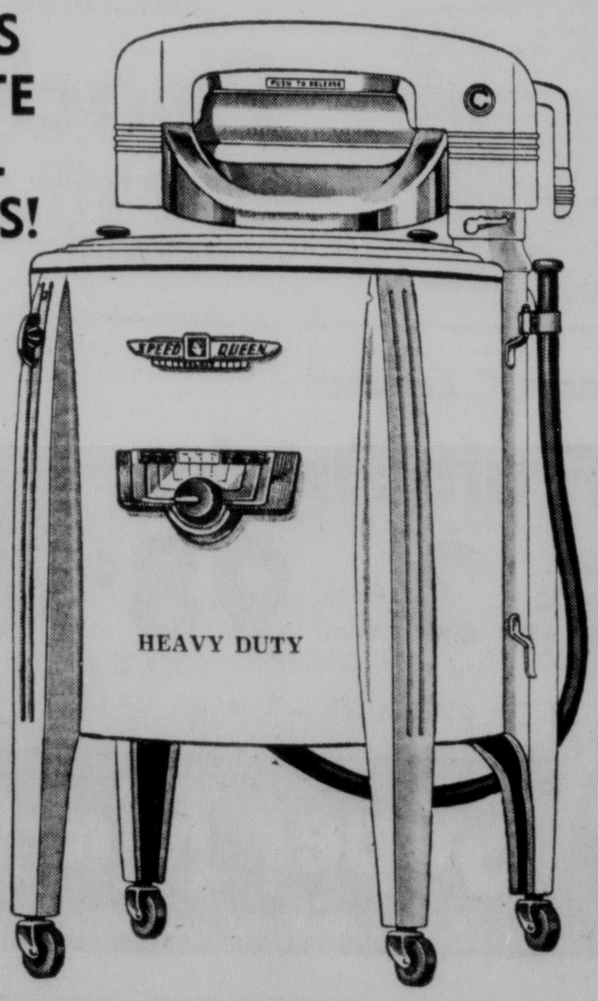
MOORE'S FAVORITE OF ALL WASHERS!



Again we say this "Heavy Duty" model SPEED QUEEN washer is the most trouble free mechanism a woman has ever had occasion to use. No grunting or groaning, it's always on the job smiling.

This "heavy duty" model does its work quicker, cleaner and lasts longer. It requires no attention whatever. No oiling, no greasing, no adjusting, no nothing only wipe it off when through washing and you have a nice shiny new washer for years to come.

The price is $139.95 and your old washer. And only $5.00 down delivers.

Other Speed Queens for less and others for more but this particular "heavy duty" model is our favorite and the one we recommend to our friends as best buy for their dollar.

MOORE'S FAVORITE OF ALL WASHERS!

Again we say this "Heavy Duty" model SPEED QUEEN washer is the most trouble free mechanism a woman has ever had occasion to use. No grunting or groaning, it's always on the job smiling.
This "heavy duty" model does its work quicker, cleaner and lasts longer. It requires no attention whatever. No oiling, no greasing, no adjusting, no nothing only wipe it off when through washing and you have a nice shiny new washer for years to come.
The price is $139.95 and your old washer. And only $5.00 down delivers.
Other Speed Queens for less and others for more but this particular "heavy duty" model is our favorite and the one we recommend to our friends as best buy for their dollar.

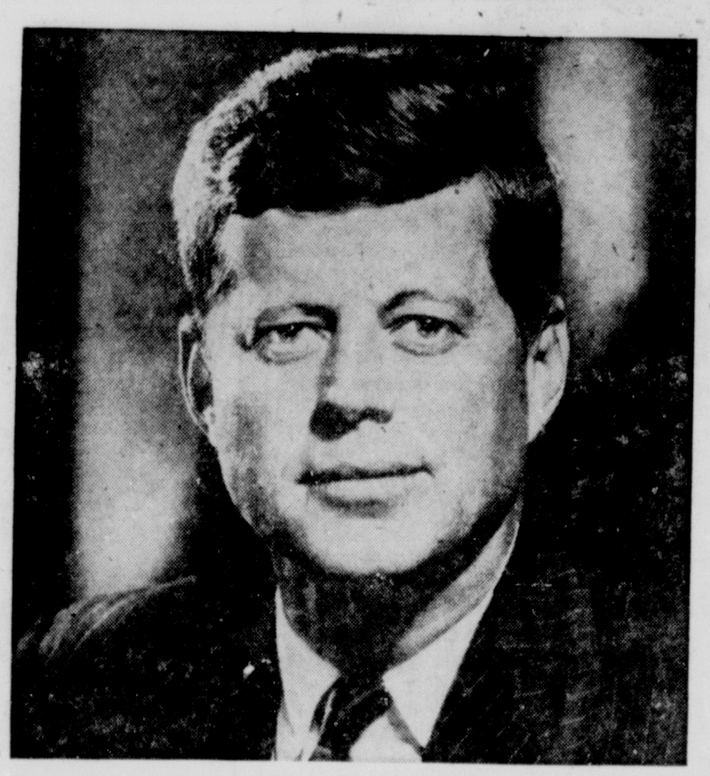
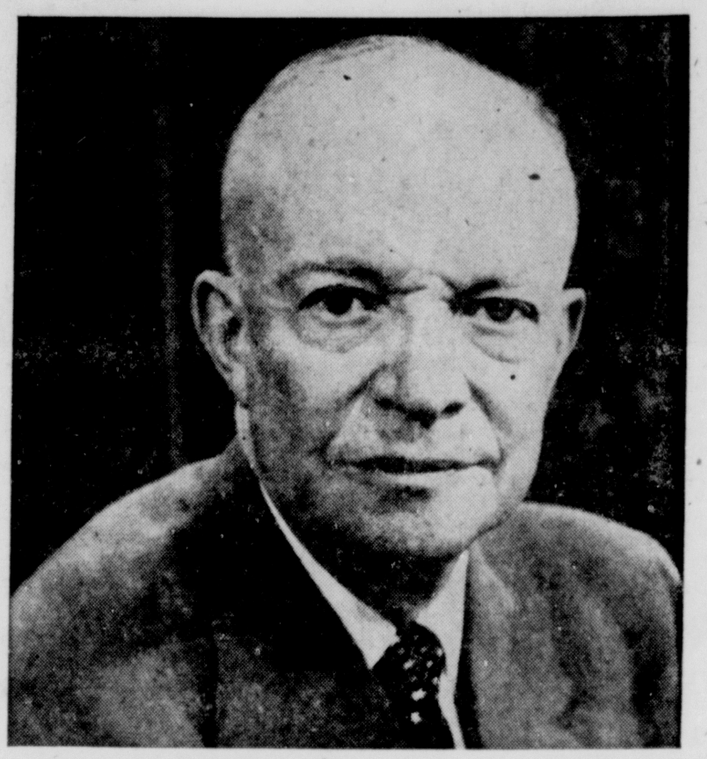
The Advertising Council



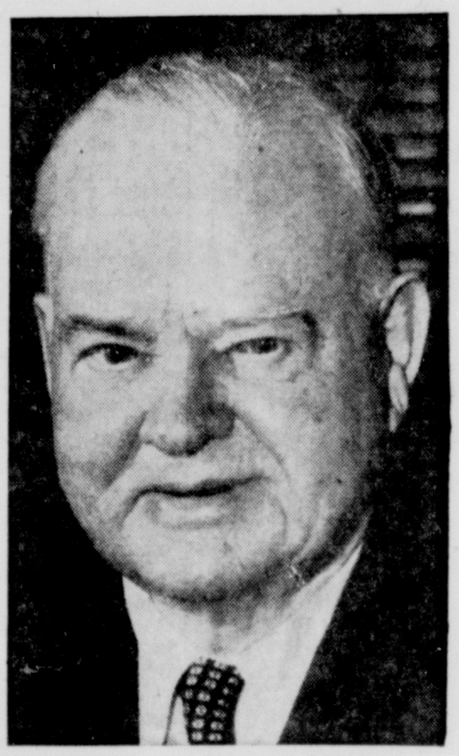
JOHN F. KENNEDY: "I congratulate and commend The Advertising Council for its two decades of public service to the U.S. Government in bringing important public messages to the American people. The Council can well be proud of its record in war and in peace. We shall continue to look to the Council for help in communicating a variety of essential public messages in these critical times."



DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER: "The results of your work are obvious. The various Government departments whose programs you have done so much to forward have reason to be grateful to you. Your combined efforts have been worth many millions of dollars to our Government. When I spoke to your group on March twenty-fourth, I said I thought it one of the most important agencies in the country."

HARRY S. TRUMAN: "Beyond question, the dissemination of wartime information through advertising played a vital part in bringing to the people the story of what had to be done to speed victory. Our problems, unfortunately, did not end with the war, and there will be many vital ones which cannot be solved without the understanding cooperation of the people."

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT: "The voluntary contribution made by advertising men and women under the Council's leadership has been of notable assistance to the Government's wartime information programs. I am gratified to learn that the Council plans to continue its public service, and I hope your work will receive the unqualified support of businessmen."



HERBERT HOOVER: "I congratulate the Council on twenty years' service to the non-partisan purposes of good government. I have had occasion to witness the effectiveness of the Council in raising funds to relieve the famines in Europe and in giving wide publication to the reports of the Commissions on Organization of the Executive Branch of Government."

The voluntary, unpaid work of The Advertising Council—for Government and for private causes—is simple to explain: Let the American people know about things that need doing and let them know how to go about it. The people pick it up from there.

Take a moment to look at the campaign symbols below. You may have worked in your own community in behalf of some of them. You may have bought Bonds, solicited funds or helped get out the vote. Whatever you did, you did freely by your own choice simply because the need was there.

The power behind all of these campaigns was supplied through The Advertising Council by advertising donated by American business—by companies, magazines, newspapers, broadcasting stations, networks, motion picture producers, outdoor and transit companies. Advertising agencies prepared the advertising campaigns free of charge.

In 1960 alone, the advertising donated to the Council's public service campaigns added up to 226 million dollars.

Not a penny of tax money was spent for it.

The work is not finished. In today's cold war the need is as great as in yesterday's hot war. On the occasion of its twentieth anniversary, The Advertising Council reconfirms its pledge of support. How about you?

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: For 10 years I have worked for the same boss. Never once have I heard him utter one word of thanks for a job well done — and believe me, I've tried hard.

Perhaps this open letter to all bosses might be worth printing. I hope you think so:

Dear Boss: Remember the day you applied for your first job? You were dressed up in your best clothes and you put forth your finest manners and the most pleasant side of your personality.

When you were called into the personnel office you were embarrassed because you were sure everyone could hear your heart pounding. When you were told to report to work on Monday you felt like a million bucks. Starting at the bottom was all right with you because you had ambition and confidence.

Remember how thrilled you were when the boss gave you a kind word of a compliment? Remember the lift it gave you? And then you said to the fellow at the next desk, "He's a terrific boss. I'd do anything in the world for him."

And now — years later — you're the boss.

When did you last give an employe a kind word or a pat on the back? When did you last go out of your way to tell an employe that his hard work was appreciated?

Why don't you try it once? You may just hear through the grapevine that somebody said, "Gee, he's a terrific boss. I'd do anything in the world for him." — ANONYMOUS.

In Defense Of Cats

Dear Ann: I am annoyed with you for believing that story written by the Great Dane owner. Apparently you don't know much about cats or dogs.

I have owned both cats and dogs and I'll take cats any day. Feline creatures frequently are mistreated by canine beasts but a cat will never attack a dog. The cat only fights back in self-defense. And, my dear Miss Landers, none but a crazy cat would molest a Great Dane.

I have never seen a cat spill a pan of water or milk. They are far too orderly. Another dog must have done it — or perhaps that horse of a Dane did it himself. Dogs frequently step in their food, tip water pans and are on the whole stupid and clumsy.

I suspect, Miss Landers, that you have never owned a cat. In fact, after looking at your picture I'd bet on it. You're just not the type — MRS. H.

Dear Mrs. H.: Don't bet anything you need, Petunia. Our cat Yitzruck was the cutest thing on Valmont Ave. in Eau Claire, Wis.

Mother Out Of Line

Dear Ann: Our daughter got an engagement ring last week. The diamond is so small it is embarrassing. When I saw the ring I told her if the boy couldn't spend any more money than that he would have been better off not to have given her a ring at all.

Now she is mad at me because I was honest. I offered to let her remount her grandmother's ring which is lying in the vault. She refused to consider it.

I've suggested that she ask the fellow to return the ring and apply the amount toward a beautiful diamond wedding band. Don't you agree this is sensible and practical? — J's MOTHER.

Dear Mother: If the fellow gave her a mounted peanut you should have said nothing. Stay out of it from here on in.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

PTA Stages Fathers Night

"Fathers' Night" was observed at a meeting of the Industry Borough Parent - Teacher Association Thursday night in the Ohio View School.

Donald Bradshaw, principal of Western Beaver County Schools, screened the film, "World Events and Their Effects on Our Community."

Mrs. William Duck opened the meeting with a poem, "This Is the Time," and led the group in prayer.

Mrs. Laco Shreve, president, conducted business and announced that the "Founder' Day" program will be held at the next meeting, Feb. 1 at 8 p.m. in the Ohio View School. Members are to take pennies as a "Founders' Day" gift. The program, "It's Up To You — Safety or Fire Hazard," will be presented by the Industry Borough fire department. A panel discussion will follow.

Mrs. Max Williams, hostess chairman, announced that Mrs. George Backe and Mrs. Charles Jacoby will be co-hostesses for the meeting, assisted by the second grade mothers of the Ohio View School.

Mrs. John Ketterer, second grade teacher in the Ohio View School, was presented a lifetime membership in the Beaver County PTA and a gold pin. A gift was given in honor of Mrs. Ketterer and Mrs. Arthur Ewing to the Beaver County scholarship fund by the Industry PTA.

Attendance banners were won in the Ohio View School by Charles Smith's sixth grade and in the Industry School by Miss Doris McDonald's third and fourth grade.

The Executive Board will meet Jan. 25 at 1 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Charles Henderson.

Refreshments were served at a buffet table centered with an arrangement of gladiolus, carnations and lilies of the valley and lighted white tapers.

Mrs. John Gill and Mrs. Arthur Brown, hostesses, were assisted by the third grade mothers of the Ohio View School.

Markets In District Stock Plentiful Supply Of Fruit

Holiday shopping for fresh fruit was heavy, but area fruit counters continue to offer a wide selection, according to Richard W. Skinner, market information specialist with the Agricultural Extension Service in Canfield.

Citrus fruits and apples lead the parade of good buys. Supplies of both are larger than last year by a sufficient amount. The leading apple varieties on area markets include Red and Golden Delicious, Jonathan, Romes and Stayman.

CA or controlled atmosphere apples from New York or Michigan will reach the market in about another week. Those will be mostly McIntosh and Jonathan. They will be of excellent quality, but higher in price because of higher storage costs.

Oranges and grapefruit continue to offer value and will remain in fairly abundant supply for the coming weeks. Tangerines will be on the market in volume for about another week. Select those tangerines that are heavy for their size.

Avoid decay which in tangerines are soft spots that look water - soaked. As we near the end of the season, you will want to check more closely for quality. As in oranges and grapefruit, the size of a tangerine does not affect its quality.

There will be a few more bananas on the market this month. Quality varies greatly depending upon the source. Bananas coming from Ecuador at this time of year are of high quality, while those coming from upper Central America normally are at a seasonal low in quality. You may find low prices but be sure to check the quality carefully before buying.

Other fresh fruits which you will find on area fruit counters at moderate prices are pears, coconuts and cranberries. Higher in price will be pineapples and grapes.

When figuring cost per serving of the fresh vegetables available you will continue to find cabbage is one of the lowest - cost vegetable choices along with potatoes. When buying cabbage regardless of the color and shape, select heads that are solid and firm and heavy for their size.

The leaves should be fresh and crisp. One pound of cabbage will yield seven half-cup servings and a medium head will weigh approximately three to four pounds.

Cold weather delayed the progress of vine-ripened tomatoes in parts of Florida. And dry weather in other parts of the state has caused size and yield to be smaller than expected. Volume of both cauliflower and brussels sprouts have passed their seasonal peaks and will be below year earlier levels in the next few weeks.

Crash At Intersection Damages 2 City Autos

Two autos were damaged in a collision Saturday at 11:41 a. m. at St. Clair Ave. and Walnut St., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1957 four-door sedan operated by James A. Marshall, 57, of 326 E. 9th St. and a 1956 two-door driven by Robert D. Reed, 26, of 715 Laura Ave., officers said. There was damage to the left front of Marshall's auto and both left doors and a fender of Reed's car, police said.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Kenneth Lowther, 1276 Erie St., told police the left rear door of her 1956 model sedan was damaged by a hit-skip auto at 1:57 p. m. Saturday while parked on State St.

Kennel Fire Destroys 4 Valuable Show Dogs

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Four valuable show dogs of a rare breed were destroyed today in an explosion and fire which wrecked the Van-Day Kennels just north of Dayton.

The dogs, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Leonard, were valued at $3,500. They were Rhodesian Ridgebacks, described as South African lion dogs. The Leonards said the breed was introduced in this country about five years ago.

One of the dogs lost in the blaze was judged best of breed in the 1960 dog show at Madison Square Garden.

Loss to the kennel was estimated by the owners at $6,000. They believed the fire started in an explosion in a kennel heater.

Columbus Area Dark

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A large area of the North Side was blacked out for a short time Sunday night after a car knocked down a utility pole. Three youths in the car were injured slightly.

Democrats Back Man Due Trial In Warren

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Frank A. Cickelli, who goes on trial today on charges stemming from a grand jury probe of Warren's $4.5 million sewage treatment plant, has been endorsed by the Democratic executive committee for a fourth term as a member of the board of elections.

Cickelli, 51, is county Democratic chairman and chairman of the election board. He was one of seven persons indicted by a grand jury which investigated last September after two phases of the sewage project were hit by unexplained work stoppages.

Three former city councilmen indicted in that probe pleaded guilty to bribery and are serving terms in Ohio Penitentiary. Cickelli would be ousted from his political positions if he were convicted.

The executive committee vote Saturday night was 35-1. The lone opponent was W. B. Kilpatrick, Trumbull County commissioner, who sought to delay action on the matter until after Cickelli's trial.

Toledo Father Killed

ADRIAN, Mich. (AP) — A Toledo man accompanying his son back to college was killed Sunday in a two-car collision on an icy highway east of here. The victim was George R. Thompson, 53, general superintendent of Standard Oil Co.'s refinery in Toledo.

Thompson was in a car driven by his son, Frank, 19, a Michigan State sophomore. The youth was not hurt.

Ohio Lists 18 On Road Toll For Weekend

By The Associated Press

With the holidays over Ohio drivers apparently relaxed — at least 18 persons died in automobile accidents over the weekend.

The toll was far above the New Year's weekend toll of 11 which covered a period 24- hours longer.

The fatality count started slowly. Only one death was reported during the last six hours of Friday. Then it shot up Saturday.

A car carrying six Michigan men, all of whom were deaf, went out of control on the icy Toledo-Detroit Expressway, skidded across a 20-foot median strip and slammed into a tractor - trailer truck. Four of the men died.

By the time Saturday came to a close 10 persons had perished in auto mishaps.

The only accidental death other than in traffic occurred Sunday when a 5-week-old Cincinnati boy apparently suffocated after he buried his head in a plastic bag used to protect his mattress.

The fatalities:

Friday night

Halman Hegyi, 83, Cleveland, when he was hit by a car at a Cleveland intersection.

Saturday

Joseph Doughty, 40, Binghamton, N.Y., when the car in which he was riding struck the rear of a milk truck in Akron.

Larry W. Seins, 18, Cambridge, in an auto collision on Ohio 209 south of Cambridge.

George J. Reshetylo, 23, Lima, in a head-on auto collision in Lima.

Mrs. Thelma Caldwell Crawmer, about 22, Newark, in an auto collision on Ohio 79, a mile west of Buckeye Lake.

Marvin R. Pierce, 26, Madison Heights, Mich.; Valerio L. DiFalco, 32, Detroit; Carroll C. Wood, 20, Detroit, and William W. Knight III. 28, Warren, Mich., when their car skidded out of control on the Toledo - Detroit Expressway and slammed into a tractor - trailer truck.

Connie Woosley, 14, Cincinnati, of injuries suffered in an automobile accident in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Sarah Stalnaker, 79, Akron, hit by a car as she was crossing an Akron street.

Waymond Keith Clayton, 3, Columbus, in a hit-skip accident in Columbus.

Sunday

Gerald M. Smith, 46, Waynesfield, died of injuries suffered in Lima accident Saturday in which George J. Reshetylo was killed.

Myron A. Murphy, 30, Senecaville, when his car went off Ohio 313 and turned over west of Senecaville.

Robert D. Bell, 22, Cleveland, when his car left Ohio 43 in Solon and crashed into a culvert.

Lawrence Wendt, 8, Sandusky, when the car his father was driving hit a utility pole at a Sandusky intersection.

Anthony McMullen, 5 weeks, Cincinnati, apparently suffocated when he buried his head in a plastic bag used to protect his mattress.

Mrs. Hazel Abrams, 53, Norwood, when she was struck by a car while crossing a street in that Cincinnati suburb.

Raymond E. Todd, 61, Canton, when he apparently walked into the path of an oncoming car near Canton.

Cubans Get Warning On Work Absenteeism

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Cuba's economic chief Ernesto Guevara says job absenteeism must be wiped out and production increased in every industry.

Guevara warned workers they will have to have an air-tight excuse to stay away from their jobs. His speech, broadcast from Havana, was monitored at Key West.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Children Should Complete Projects

When progressive education was at its height, many of its leaders put great emphasis on urging children to explore new interests. If they didn't find one project or hobby interesting, they were stimulated to start another. How many new things a youngster started, rather than how many he finished, was the chief criterion. While very few would now advocate such a goal, in actual practice all too many children strive to win Scout badges and the like, even citations at school. They begin many home projects they never finish, or report chores they have done at home which they did only irregularly or under parental pressures. Usually parents are glad to have their children win the badge or get the citation, regardless of how rarely they earned them.

OFTEN THE SCOUT official is satisfied when the youngster reports the project he has begun without receiving objective evidence of its completion. Even the school may require no more evidence before awarding a citation.

Anybody knows how easy it is for any child, in these ways, to win awards for what he has not really achieved, and thus be tempted to deceive and to shirk responsibility.

From Ohio, a mother expresses concern about children who start so many projects they don't complete and about the ill effect of such on character development.

"The poor results are showing up in incomplete schoolwork, unfinished work to earn Scout badges, unfinished jobs around the home, etc," she says.

Often in this column I have discussed the type of child who never finishes his regular written work in school or his home assignment unless the teacher or parent keeps after him.

I HAVE SUGGESTED that this child may be helped to finish such mental work if he is required to do a few home chores regularly, to go at them promptly and complete them to a standard as high as he is reasonably able to attain.

Whether it is washing dishes, raking leaves, or tidying up his own room, he should be held to doing it well and completely. In such matters most parents are far too lenient.

Think of all the children who, with great enthusiasm, begin on some hobby, or some farm, garden or livestock project, only to neglect or wholly abandon it after a few days or weeks.

Before your child begins such an activity, make clear to him it is not just for a little while.

Fine, of course, to stimulate his early interest, even to give him some help as he needs it. But there may come a time when you should require him to pursue it faithfully to fruition or for a reasonable period, at least.

My bulletin "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Special Tools Meet Demands Of Space Flight Zero-Gravity

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A space mechanic working in zero-gravity could turn a flip simply by twisting a screwdriver. A monkey wrench could throw him for a loop.

To keep a space mechanic from having to handle ordinary tools, the space agency is experimenting with new push-button and quick squeeze hand tools.

In an orbital launching operation, separate stages of a manned space vehicle would be launched, assembled and possibly fueled while in a 300-mile-high orbit. All of this would take place on the second leg of a round-trip flight to the moon.

Space mechanics may have to connect these rocket stages.

In simulated space tests, an engineer wearing a pressurized space suit and standing on a frictionless platform riding on air pressure, carries out maintenance jobs that a space mechanic might encounter.

Standing on the platform, a space mechanic tests the newly developed antitorque tools that space mechanics of the future may use.

One is a screwdriver that can be turned by squeezing rather than by twisting. Another is a combination of pliers and wrench, also operated by squeezing.

A third tool, called a spunfit, is a wrench operated by a trigger.

Reds Recall Molotov To Atom Council Post

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Foreign Office said today V. M. Molotov, former foreign minister, has returned to his post with the International Atomic Energy Commission in Vienna despite his condemnation by the last Communist party congress.

The old-time Stalinist was recalled from his post in Vienna last November and there was widespread belief that he was headed for oblivion.

In Vienna, a Soviet Embassy spokesman denied any knowledge of the report that Molotov was returning to his former post.

Snow Heads Into Canada

By The Associated Press

The center of the first major storm of the new year moved out of the United States and into Canada today, leaving in its wake a great mass of snow that caused many deaths and widespread destruction.

Temperatures moderated from the sub-zero and zero readings early in the weekend to the teens and 20s. In Minnesota temperatures still hovered around zero in a new snowfall.

Of the dead attributed to the weather, Wisconsin had 15 of which 12 died because of overexertion. New England had six dead.

An enviable contrast to the winter over most of the country was Southern California's heat wave. Thousands swarmed to resorts and beaches as temperatures soared. In the South Bay area of Los Angeles, 15 swimmers were rescued by lifeguards.

The unofficial reading Sunday at Palm Springs and Oasis was 93. In the San Fernando Valley it was 96.

Los Angeles had a record 86 degrees—the warmest Jan. 7 in 59 years.

Warm weather and rain sent rivers over their banks in western Washington State. Heavy, wet snow fell over northeastern Washington, causing some damage to property and utility lines.

Between 2 and 6 inches of new snow fell over parts of Montana, Wyoming and Colorado, but temperatures ranged mostly in the 20s. Snowslides caused some trouble in the Colorado mountains and in Utah.

Icy roads remained a problem in Indiana, Illinois and Iowa. The three states lay in the path of a weekend storm that dumped up to 14 inches of snow. Some sections had drifts up to three feet.

In the east, tornado-like winds, heavy rain and sleet caused wide damage and several deaths. Power failures and telephone service cuts were reported in several areas in New York State.

Science Grant Given For Summer Institute

CLEVELAND (AP)—A $130,000 grant for a summer institute in science and mathematics for high school teachers has been awarded to Western Reserve University by the National Science Foundation.

The university said today the institute, June 18-Aug. 31, will cover such subjects as biology, chemistry, geography, geology and mathematics.

Bottling Plant Burns

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A fire which apparently started from an electric heater in an office caused an estimated $30,000 damage to the Canada Dry Bottling Co. here Sunday night. One fireman was injured slightly while fighting the blaze.

Columbus Area Dark

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A large area of the North Side was blacked out for a short time Sunday night after a car knocked down a utility pole. Three youths in the car were injured slightly.

Democrats Back Man Due Trial In Warren

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Frank A. Cickelli, who goes on trial today on charges stemming from a grand jury probe of Warren's $4.5 million sewage treatment plant, has been endorsed by the Democratic executive committee for a fourth term as a member of the board of elections.

Cickelli, 51, is county Democratic chairman and chairman of the election board. He was one of seven persons indicted by a grand jury which investigated last September after two phases of the sewage project were hit by unexplained work stoppages.

Three former city councilmen indicted in that probe pleaded guilty to bribery and are serving terms in Ohio Penitentiary. Cickelli would be ousted from his political positions if he were convicted.

The executive committee vote Saturday night was 35-1. The lone opponent was W. B. Kilpatrick, Trumbull County commissioner, who sought to delay action on the matter until after Cickelli's trial.

Toledo Father Killed

ADRIAN, Mich. (AP) — A Toledo man accompanying his son back to college was killed Sunday in a two-car collision on an icy highway east of here. The victim was George R. Thompson, 53, general superintendent of Standard Oil Co.'s refinery in Toledo.

Thompson was in a car driven by his son, Frank, 19, a Michigan State sophomore. The youth was not hurt.

Ohio Lists 18 On Road Toll For Weekend

By The Associated Press

With the holidays over Ohio drivers apparently relaxed — at least 18 persons died in automobile accidents over the weekend.

The toll was far above the New Year's weekend toll of 11 which covered a period 24- hours longer.

The fatality count started slowly. Only one death was reported during the last six hours of Friday. Then it shot up Saturday.

A car carrying six Michigan men, all of whom were deaf, went out of control on the icy Toledo-Detroit Expressway, skidded across a 20-foot median strip and slammed into a tractor - trailer truck. Four of the men died.

By the time Saturday came to a close 10 persons had perished in auto mishaps.

The only accidental death other than in traffic occurred Sunday when a 5-week-old Cincinnati boy apparently suffocated after he buried his head in a plastic bag used to protect his mattress.

The fatalities:

Friday night

Halman Hegyi, 83, Cleveland, when he was hit by a car at a Cleveland intersection.

Saturday

Joseph Doughty, 40, Binghamton, N.Y., when the car in which he was riding struck the rear of a milk truck in Akron.

Larry W. Seins, 18, Cambridge, in an auto collision on Ohio 209 south of Cambridge.

George J. Reshetylo, 23, Lima, in a head-on auto collision in Lima.

Mrs. Thelma Caldwell Crawmer, about 22, Newark, in an auto collision on Ohio 79, a mile west of Buckeye Lake.

Marvin R. Pierce, 26, Madison Heights, Mich.; Valerio L. DiFalco, 32, Detroit; Carroll C. Wood, 20, Detroit, and William W. Knight III. 28, Warren, Mich., when their car skidded out of control on the Toledo - Detroit Expressway and slammed into a tractor - trailer truck.

Connie Woosley, 14, Cincinnati, of injuries suffered in an automobile accident in Cincinnati.

Mrs. Sarah Stalnaker, 79, Akron, hit by a car as she was crossing an Akron street.

Waymond Keith Clayton, 3, Columbus, in a hit-skip accident in Columbus.

Sunday

Gerald M. Smith, 46, Waynesfield, died of injuries suffered in Lima accident Saturday in which George J. Reshetylo was killed.

Myron A. Murphy, 30, Senecaville, when his car went off Ohio 313 and turned over west of Senecaville.

Robert D. Bell, 22, Cleveland, when his car left Ohio 43 in Solon and crashed into a culvert.

Lawrence Wendt, 8, Sandusky, when the car his father was driving hit a utility pole at a Sandusky intersection.

Anthony McMullen, 5 weeks, Cincinnati, apparently suffocated when he buried his head in a plastic bag used to protect his mattress.

Mrs. Hazel Abrams, 53, Norwood, when she was struck by a car while crossing a street in that Cincinnati suburb.

Raymond E. Todd, 61, Canton, when he apparently walked into the path of an oncoming car near Canton.

Cubans Get Warning On Work Absenteeism

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Cuba's economic chief Ernesto Guevara says job absenteeism must be wiped out and production increased in every industry.

Guevara warned workers they will have to have an air-tight excuse to stay away from their jobs. His speech, broadcast from Havana, was monitored at Key West.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Children Should Complete Projects

When progressive education was at its height, many of its leaders put great emphasis on urging children to explore new interests. If they didn't find one project or hobby interesting, they were stimulated to start another. How many new things a youngster started, rather than how many he finished, was the chief criterion. While very few would now advocate such a goal, in actual practice all too many children strive to win Scout badges and the like, even citations at school. They begin many home projects they never finish, or report chores they have done at home which they did only irregularly or under parental pressures. Usually parents are glad to have their children win the badge or get the citation, regardless of how rarely they earned them.

OFTEN THE SCOUT official is satisfied when the youngster reports the project he has begun without receiving objective evidence of its completion. Even the school may require no more evidence before awarding a citation.

Anybody knows how easy it is for any child, in these ways, to win awards for what he has not really achieved, and thus be tempted to deceive and to shirk responsibility.

From Ohio, a mother expresses concern about children who start so many projects they don't complete and about the ill effect of such on character development.

"The poor results are showing up in incomplete schoolwork, unfinished work to earn Scout badges, unfinished jobs around the home, etc," she says.

Often in this column I have discussed the type of child who never finishes his regular written work in school or his home assignment unless the teacher or parent keeps after him.

I HAVE SUGGESTED that this child may be helped to finish such mental work if he is required to do a few home chores regularly, to go at them promptly and complete them to a standard as high as he is reasonably able to attain.

Whether it is washing dishes, raking leaves, or tidying up his own room, he should be held to doing it well and completely. In such matters most parents are far too lenient.

Think of all the children who, with great enthusiasm, begin on some hobby, or some farm, garden or livestock project, only to neglect or wholly abandon it after a few days or weeks.

Before your child begins such an activity, make clear to him it is not just for a little while.

Fine, of course, to stimulate his early interest, even to give him some help as he needs it. But there may come a time when you should require him to pursue it faithfully to fruition or for a reasonable period, at least.

My bulletin "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Special Tools Meet Demands Of Space Flight Zero-Gravity

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A space mechanic working in zero-gravity could turn a flip simply by twisting a screwdriver. A monkey wrench could throw him for a loop.

To keep a space mechanic from having to handle ordinary tools, the space agency is experimenting with new push-button and quick squeeze hand tools.

In an orbital launching operation, separate stages of a manned space vehicle would be launched, assembled and possibly fueled while in a 300-mile-high orbit. All of this would take place on the second leg of a round-trip flight to the moon.

Space mechanics may have to connect these rocket stages.

In simulated space tests, an engineer wearing a pressurized space suit and standing on a frictionless platform riding on air pressure, carries out maintenance jobs that a space mechanic might encounter.

Standing on the platform, a space mechanic tests the newly developed antitorque tools that space mechanics of the future may use.

One is a screwdriver that can be turned by squeezing rather than by twisting. Another is a combination of pliers and wrench, also operated by squeezing.

A third tool, called a spunfit, is a wrench operated by a trigger.

Reds Recall Molotov To Atom Council Post

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Foreign Office said today V. M. Molotov, former foreign minister, has returned to his post with the International Atomic Energy Commission in Vienna despite his condemnation by the last Communist party congress.

The old-time Stalinist was recalled from his post in Vienna last November and there was widespread belief that he was headed for oblivion.

In Vienna, a Soviet Embassy spokesman denied any knowledge of the report that Molotov was returning to his former post.

Snow Heads Into Canada

By The Associated Press

The center of the first major storm of the new year moved out of the United States and into Canada today, leaving in its wake a great mass of snow that caused many deaths and widespread destruction.

Temperatures moderated from the sub-zero and zero readings early in the weekend to the teens and 20s. In Minnesota temperatures still hovered around zero in a new snowfall.

Of the dead attributed to the weather, Wisconsin had 15 of which 12 died because of overexertion. New England had six dead.

An enviable contrast to the winter over most of the country was Southern California's heat wave. Thousands swarmed to resorts and beaches as temperatures soared. In the South Bay area of Los Angeles, 15 swimmers were rescued by lifeguards.

The unofficial reading Sunday at Palm Springs and Oasis was 93. In the San Fernando Valley it was 96.

Los Angeles had a record 86 degrees—the warmest Jan. 7 in 59 years.

Warm weather and rain sent rivers over their banks in western Washington State. Heavy, wet snow fell over northeastern Washington, causing some damage to property and utility lines.

Between 2 and 6 inches of new snow fell over parts of Montana, Wyoming and Colorado, but temperatures ranged mostly in the 20s. Snowslides caused some trouble in the Colorado mountains and in Utah.

Icy roads remained a problem in Indiana, Illinois and Iowa. The three states lay in the path of a weekend storm that dumped up to 14 inches of snow. Some sections had drifts up to three feet.

In the east, tornado-like winds, heavy rain and sleet caused wide damage and several deaths. Power failures and telephone service cuts were reported in several areas in New York State.

Science Grant Given For Summer Institute

CLEVELAND (AP)—A $130,000 grant for a summer institute in science and mathematics for high school teachers has been awarded to Western Reserve University by the National Science Foundation.

The university said today the institute, June 18-Aug. 31, will cover such subjects as biology, chemistry, geography, geology and mathematics.

Bottling Plant Burns

U.S. Fashion Group Weighs Question On What Men Like

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Men like women.

This is what more than 200 fashion writers concluded Sunday after the New York Couture Group intensely probed the subject, "What do men like?"

The study was thorough. It began with wild, woolly and sleek linen-looking coats and suits. It continued with costumes for sports, beach, daytime, cocktail, evening and, indeed, through the night. All was spun courtesy of the silkworm.

"Men like ruffles and full skirts," the commentator announced. Girls flounced onto the runway in crinkly silk crepes that rustled and rippled.

"Men like sheer dresses with long, tight sleeves," the voice declared authoritatively. Exotic black-eyed ladies appeared in nude black chiffon that covered up everything, and yet didn't.

"Men like ladies to be provocative." As if they didn't already know this, fashion writers dutifully scribbled the idea, also taking note of a slinky, black silk shantung at-home costume, very bare at the top.

"Men love the childish touch." To illustrate this, models too shapely to be children minced forth in dainty silk print dresses with smocked yokes and self belts.

"Men are attracted to long, sleeky black. They can't resist the exotic look, either," said the lady. She pointed out that this effect was best achieved with tightly fitted Oriental or Indian printed silk sheaths.

"Men are enchanted by one-shoulder dresses, happily created from clouds of chiffon with giant flowers on it. They are doubly so with dresses lacking shoulders altogether."

But do men, especially the short ones, like those tall, tall, silk turbans that wrap up to at least a foot and a half high? Nobody asked or answered this question, but these in brilliant hues topped the models' daytime costumes.

Snow Aids Cattle Rancher's Drive In Dakota Crisis

WINNER, S.D. (AP)—A swirling snowstorm that brewed a temporary feed crisis for Don Hight's cattle drive turned out to have its helpful side.

"It'll cover all the winter wheat we have to travel across," Hight said as he readied his 1,800 Herefords for the final 17 miles of a 65-mile walk to a cattle auction house at Winner.

Much of the remaining distance is in more settled country than the cattle range where the animals grazed before heading to market.

They are hoofing across numerous farms and Hight had to agree to keep them along fence lines to avoid plowing through more wheat than is necessary.

At times, the herd has stretched out a mile and a half. The 40-year-old rancher lets the cows set their own pace.

Hight expects to have the cattle in pens at the sales ring Tuesday night. He'll separate the cows and steers, the steers to go by the pound and the cows by the head when the auctioneer's cry rings out Thursday.

His main worry now, Hight says, is shrinkage. He expects to save $2,000 by trail-driving the beef as against the normal method of trucking them, and expects to pocket around $360,000 at the sale.

Anthropologist Edward Weyer calls the Arunta tribesmen of central Australia "as perfect an example of a Stone Age people as we have."

Picket Lines Honored At Canton Press Firm

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Day shift workers did not cross picket lines set up by 22 book binders at the Danner Press of Canton, Inc., plant today.

The 22 employes walked off their jobs in a wildcat strike Friday night and caused shutdown of the plant. The Book Binders Union represents 127 employes, but 307 work in the entire plant. Three other unions are involved.

Bob Danner, company president, said the Book Binders Union had been presented a company offer of 19½ cents an hour, liberalized vacations, holiday pay and premium pay.

Danner said he was not interested in further negotiations with the union until the strikers returned to their jobs because the walkout was unauthorized.

Illness Claims Ohio's 1949 Mother Of Year

IRONTON, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio mother of the year 1949 died Sunday in Lawrence County General Hospital following a long illness. She was Mrs. Erma Marting, 84, wife of a prominent physican here and the mother of three daughters who also are physicians.

Her husband is Dr. W. F. Marting, who also is an Ironton city councilman. The daughters are Dr. Anne Alstott, president of the Ironton City School Board; Dr. Ester Fabing of Cincinnati and Dr. Miriam Marting of Ironton, who has retired from practice.

Summit Deputies Act In Jailbreak Threat

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Reports of a pending jailbreak at the Summit County jail resulted Sunday night in the shakedown of about 20 prisoners and an inspection of their cells by sheriff's deputies.

Lt. Sam Andrews, a deputy sheriff, said nothing was found to indicate any such attempt was planned. He said one prisoner reportedly dropped notes to his wife, who was to have supplied him with a saw blade through a jail window. He said five alleged ringleaders were separated from the other prisoners.

Farm Signup Deadline Set

Hancock County farmers interested in establishing soil and water conservation practices under the 1962 agricultural conservation program should file their requests as soon as possible.

Carl Allison, chairman of the Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said the final deadline for signup under the program is Feb. 9 at the ASC office in New Cumberland.

Farmers may obtain aid averaging about half the cost of such conservation programs as establishing and improving vegative cover of grasses, legumes, or trees for soil protection, installing erosion control structures, and practices for the more efficient use of water.

Meanwhile, owners of 37 county farms have signed to take part in the 1962 wheat stabilization program. Farms signed to participate represent about 37 per cent of the listed wheat farms in the county. Advance payments permitted under the program now total $2,140 to the county's wheat producers.

The signup period under the 1962 feed grain program will begin Feb. 5 and continue through March 30, Allison reported. It applies to crop acreages of corn and grain sorghums. Fall - seeded wheat and barley acreages were signed up under the programs during the period ended Dec. 1.

HIDE-A-DESK. A homemaker's planning desk can be hidden in unlikely places. Built-in dining room buffet conceals this one, which consists mainly of a cabinet front that drops down to form a writing desk. Cupboards directly underneath hold stationery supplies.

Hide-A-Desk Plan Offered

PORTLAND, Ore. — A built-in dining room sideboard is a mighty handy thing to have.

It's good for all the conventional uses, like china and silver storage, but can be tailored for special uses, too.

For instance, a homemaker's planning desk could be neatly secreted within the dining room sideboard, built in such a way that no one would guess it's even there.

The idea and design are frankly copied from an old - fashioned secretary. The desk counter is built to look like a drawer when closed, but, instead of pulling out, the drawer face pulls down and locks into a horizontal position to form a desk. It is hinged at the bottom and has folding hinges at the sides to hold it in place.

The drawer-desk, of course, will be extra deep — just about double the depth of an ordinary drawer—so that when pulled down it forms an adequately wide writing surface. And it should be plenty long.

The innards of the drawer-desk also could simulate a secretary, with pigeonholes provided for easy letter filing.

Below the desk will be a pair of shelved cupboards to hold stationery supplies, card files and the typewriter. They should match exactly the design of the sideboard's china cupboards.

Providing kneehole space won't be necessary for this type of homemaker's desk design since the writing counter, when pulled down, extends 8 to 12 inches beyond the face of the sideboard, offering enough knee space for the average woman.

The sideboard with its hidden homemaker's desk will be a handsome affair if designed in one of the popular softwoods like western red cedar. Cedar offers great richness of color, a ruddy brown often streaked lightly with gold, and it is an excellent wood for cabinetwork.

On walls above and around the built-in sideboard, the cedar could be repeated as paneling in a sleek tongue-and-groove pattern or a slight V-joint.

Many Items Are Involved In Purchase Of Good Lot

When a woman puts every spare penny into a coffee can so that some day savings will add up to the down payment on a house, she can get very discouraged when time stretches on and nothing happens, as a recent letter tells.

A woman writes that she has saved for years, but houses keep going up, and everything she needs is out of her price range. Her children grow and her expenses increase.

Should she invest the money in land" before all the pretty land is gone?" she asks. She has seen some land in a lovely area but she expects that it will all be bought soon and it will be years before she can afford to build.

Every woman who has yearned for a house will understand how she feels.

If it will be years before a house can materialize, is it wise to use her house money this way?

A purchase of a lot or acreage should be carefully thought out, especially when it is surrounded by undeveloped land. It may look like a scene from a painting now, but how will it look in the future?

One first must investigate the adjacent land. Who owns it? Is it zoned for business and industry? A fertilizer plant planned for the vicinity might not be what you desire in your back yard.

How far is the land from a railroad station? Main highway? Shops?

What does it cost to dig a well in the area and what is the average depth for hitting water in the vicinity?

How much would it cost to clear the land, put in topsoil and landscape? How available are gas, electricity, telephone service?

If a car breaks down, how does one arrange to have it repaired? Towed?

Are there people who can assist with odd jobs — plumbing, ploughing, roof repairs?

Are there schools nearby? School bus? Church?

How far is it to the nearest doctor? Hospital?

Is there a place where friendships may be maintained and a social life developed — community houses, clubs?

Are there playmates for children?

Is the land in an area that attracts people of your approximate age?

If the area is growing, how much have the taxes risen in recent years? Is the town taking on lots of debt — new schools, big road projects, community recreation plans, other plans that would increase your taxes in the immediate future?

The fine print on the deed must be read. It might restirct you from building the kind of home you want or from putting it where you want it on your property.

We are at times overwhelmed by a picturesque area and often one feels the desire to own such a spot at any cost. But it is wise to review the drawbacks that might exist in the garden of enchantment.

Many people feel that it is wiser to save money for a down payment on a house so that one can judge the community before pouring money into a house.

If a wise real estate investment has been made in land, however, it could prove on resale to afford the profit that may make a house possible in some other area. And that is worth thinking about also when you are sizing up the value of the land you anticipate buying.

Tips Are Offered On Cleaning And Painting Stucco

AP Newsfeatures

Question: Can we paint the stucco on our house, which is 15 years old? It has taken on a dusty look, but a friend says it can't be cleaned without damaging the stucco.

Answer: Yes, stucco can be painted successfully. As for cleaning the stucco, that also can be done. Use a mild soap and water, with a wire or fiber brush. Repeated scrubbings of this sort might damage the stucco finish, but a single cleaning will not do so.

Question: I want to put a new plastic top on our kitchen table. It has a metal molding, but there are no nails or screws in it such as I have seen on other similar moldings. How is this type of molding put on?

Answer: This is a special kind of molding held in place by a clamp-like action. If you are replacing the molding with the same type, ask your dealer to show you how it is applied. Otherwise, buy one of the metal moldings which have predrilled holes for nails or screws.

Question: A wooden table top I finished recently now has a number of cloudy spots on it. I used shellac, thinned with denatured alcohol. What caused this and how can I correct it?

Answer: It appears likely that the shellac was applied to a surface with some moisture on it. Perhaps you did the job on a rainy day or one in which there was very high humidity.

You can try to remove the cloudiness by going over the spots with a brush dipped in denatured alcohol. If this doesn't work, you have no choice but to resand the wood, wash with denatured alcohol and do the job again.

U.S. Plans To Launch Space Balloon In East

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —An attempt will be made this week to inflate a giant space sphere high above the Bahama Islands after it has been rocketed aloft folded in the nose of a Thor missile.

The experiment is to try out techniques for launching an advanced Echo communications satellite. The inflation of the 13-story tall balloon could provide a brilliant dawn show for residents on the east coast of Florida, southern Georgia and the Bahamas.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said weather conditions might permit observation throughout the eastern United States when the big ball reaches its highest intended altitude of 950 miles.

Crash Claims Second Victim In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gregory Owens Carey, 17, of Cincinnati today became the second person to die as the result of a traffic accident involving six teen-agers.

The accident occurred Saturday and police said a car in which the youngsters were riding ran off the left side of a road and hit an embankment.

Connie Woosley, 14, died several hours after the accident. Three boys and another girl in the car also were hurt.

Labor Needs Mount With New Housing

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

All sorts of guesses have been made on how many new houses will be built or started in 1961. These estimates range from one to one and a half million.

But there is fairly general agreement that the annual demand for new houses will reach the two million mark within a few years. The coming population growth makes this forecast appear conservative.

There is considerable concern that when the demand reaches its height, there may not be sufficient skilled building workers to meet construction schedules.

There is some apprehension, even now, that a labor shortage may be developing in the construction trades.

In the forefront of those who hold this view is Leonard Frank, first vice president of the National Association of Home Builders.

He contends that something must be done soon to alleviate this shortage in order to prevent a drastic rise in labor costs, an inevitable result when supply can not match demand.

Some unions in the construction trades have started apprentice training programs in an effort to turn out more skilled workers in the future.

But this may not be as successful as hoped, simply because so many building workers are already fearful of what the future holds in store for them.

Prefabricated housing is gaining ground, literally and figuratively. The greater the number of factory - built parts used, the fewer the workmen needed at the site of the house. In some areas, unions have instituted regulations preventing certain types of prefabricated materials from being used.

And so we have a peculiar situation. Those who fear a labor shortage contend the unions should relax their rules so that builders can use more factory-built components in their construction operations.

The unions feel that this is an unfair attitude. They say this would only push more building workers out of their jobs and into other lines of work, thus intensifying any existing labor shortage.

Regardless of the merits of either argument, there can be no doubt that smart builders are searching for new, better and quicker ways to construct houses. There is a realization that overall costs must be cut somehow if there is to be another boom in private housing.

STANTON HIGH WORK PROGRESSES. Work on the new $1½ million Stanton Local High School at Hammondsville is about half finished, with the building scheduled for occupancy in September. Robert F. Wage Report Due Jan. 31

Area employers' reports of employe wages are due by Jan. 31, William J. McCauley, manager of the Youngstown Social Security office, reminded Mahoning and Columbiana County area residents today.

The reports must be made to the Internal Revenue Service and must cover the three-month period October through December, 1961.

McCauley pointed out that some employers, especially new ones, mistakenly feel they do not have to submit a report when they have only one employe or if the amount of wages paid is small.

This misunderstanding may cause the employer to have to pay a penalty and interest later. The law specifies that the wages of all workers in jobs under Social Security must be reported regardless of how small the amount and even if only one person is employed. This law applies to employers of household help, as well as to business employers, McCauley emphasized.

In general, if a person — including a maid, handyman, cleaning woman, or baby-sitter — has been paid as much as $50 in cash wages during the three-month period, October through December, a report of these earnings should be made to the Internal Revenue Service by Jan. 31. In addition, earnings reports should be made on farm workers who received less than $50 in cash wages. More details on reporting the earnings of a farm worker, McCauley said, may be obtained from either an Internal Revenue or the Social Security office.

A special, ready-to-mail form — Number 942 — is available for employers of household workers in making earnings reports. These forms may be secured from any Internal Revenue Office and take only a few minutes to complete, according to McCauley.

McCauley reminded both employers and employes that correct reporting of earnings is important since future Social Security benefits to the worker and his family are based on earnings credited to the worker's Social security account.

Term Of Court Opens At Bar Group's Dinner

The January term of Common Pleas Court opened officially today at noon with a dinner of the Columbiana County Bar Association at the First Presbyterian Church in Lisbon.

Following dinner, the Bar Association was to return to the Courthouse for its annual business meeting, with Atty. William Moore, president, in charge.

A 15-member Grand Jury will be chosen Tuesday morning to investigate 17 cases presented by Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw. The Grand Jury's investigation is expected to continue until Thursday.

Columbus Girl Loses Life In Traffic Crash

HOLLY, Mich. (AP)—A Columbus, Ohio, teen-ager was killed near here Sunday when the car driven by her father collided with another auto.

Killed was Myra Austin, 14. Her father, Duane, 35, stationed with the Army at Ft. Hayes in Columbus; his wife, Peggy, 31, and three other children were hospitalized with minor injuries.

far as they will toward a compromise. One leader told newsmen: "Our aims have not changed. We are not waiting for a messenger from France, we are waiting for concrete moves."

High nationalist sources said earlier there are "definite chances of peace" but one minister cautioned reporters not to expect a cease-fire soon.

Leaders of the seven-year rebellion gatherd in the palm-shaded Mirarmar Hotel 12 miles north of Casablanca under a heavy guard of friendly Moroccan troops.

Concern was evident among the rebel chiefs over the fresh wave of bloody terrorism sweeping their homeland. They blamed it on diehard European settlers opposed to France making any peace that would give Algeria independence.

Referring to the European Secret Army's campaign to sabotage French President Charles de Gaulle's negotiations with the nationalists, rebel Foreign Minister Saad Dahlab told newsmen: "The others are preparing war, we are preparing peace."

Fighting between French troops and Algerian rebel military units has tapered off. Murderous hit-and-run clashes between Europeans and Moslems continued.

Four persons were killed Sunday as the violence begun by De Gaulle's yearend announcement that he was speeding up moves to end the revolt, went into the second week.

Fugitive French Gen. Raoul Salan is leading the European revolt in the troubled French North African territory against both De Gaulle and the Algerians.

Raiders—presumably from the Secret Army—over the weekend stole a score of machineguns and sub-machineguns from a French military depot near Versailles.

Court Orders Lioness From City In Jersey

PLAINFIELD, N.J. (AP)—There'll be no lion in the streets in Plainfield, even if the beast really is just the playful pup its owner claims it to be.

James Trimble has been given a week to get his pet lioness, Moira, out of town. A court order issued by Magistrate Warren J. Lynch ruled that the presence of Moira, 10 months old and 100 pounds, doesn't square with the Plainfield zoning code.

Trimble, 31 has been housing Moira in the cellar of his home, but he lets her out in the back yards for an occasional gambol. Neighbors began getting edgy.

ier and temperatures were lower —it remained to make driving hazardous.

A predawn flurry left a light accumulation of wet snow on rural roads and highways, but it melted on the city's downtown streets. The heavier flurry came several hours later — in time to make streets slippery for workbound traffic.

The weatherman said the high temperature today will hit 24 to 30 degrees. The mercury will dip to 14-22 tonight, he added.

The Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported roads in Columbiana County snow - covered and slippery. The officers said Route 30 was being cindered, but was slippery in spots.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol near Steubenville said the highways in its area were slippery early this morning, but had started to clear later. Officers said two "fender bender" accidents were reported.

neutralize the Southeast Asia kingdom.

Information Minister Bouavan Norasing told newsmen no decision on the invitation was taken and another Cabinet meeting will be held Tuesday.

Boun Oum and seven of his Cabinet flew to the royal capital of Luang Prabang to confer with King Savang Vathana.

Boun Oum must get approval to leave the country from King Savang Vathana. Informed Lao sources said there was some doubt he would authorize the trip. The king is a known critic of the Geneva conference.

Britain and the Soviet Union, as cochairmen of the conference, called on Boun Oum, neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma and pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong to make another attempt to work out the distribution of posts in a coalition government.

The United States joined in the appeal, which warned the princes that their failure to form a coalition government would wreck the conference's efforts to bring peace to Laos.

Though hopes were high for another meeting of the princes, there was little optimism among diplomatic circles that anything would come of it.

Some International Control Commission officials here fear that if this new attempt fails, there will be a resumption of fighting. The countryside is now dry and the ground firm after the rainy season.

American diplomats here do not share this anxiety, holding the view that neither the Soviet Union nor the United States wants fighting in Laos that could explode into an East-West war.

25 Yugoslavs Feared Dead In Sea Collision

DOVER, England (AP)—Twenty-five seamen were feared lost in the sinking of the Yugoslav freighter Sabac after a midnight collision in the fog-shrouded English Channel.

Eight survivors and 10 bodies were recovered. The other 15 men aboard the 2,811-ton Sabac were believed dead. The ship and the 6,223-ton British steamer Dorington Court collided and the Sabac, cut in two, sank in six minutes.

Seamen said the missing men had almost no chance of survival after so many hours in the icy water with its swift currents.

Potters Go Down To Third Defeat, 45-44, In Final 4 Seconds At Youngstown South

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

The East Liverpool Potters return home for the first time in three weeks Saturday night when Ashland invades Memorial Auditorium and will have a 3-3 record to put before the Arrows after coming within four seconds of winning their fourth game Saturday night at Youngstown South.

A victory just wasn't in the books for the Potters as John Tensley slipped under the Potters' bucket and dropped in a lay-up shot with only four seconds remaining to give South a 45-44 edge.

Potter defender Ed Prentice was the closest to Tensley, but didn't make much of an effort to stop the South hero.

While the Potters were dropping their third of the season, the Youngstown five, off to one of its finest starts in many campaigns, registered its fifth win. Sharon has been the only team to defeat South.

EAST Liverpool was on top most of the first half, posting a 12-9 edge at the first quarter poll and a 26-24 margin at halftime.

A very poor third quarter saw South outscore the Potters, 17-10, and forge in front, 42-36, when the period ended.

The game Potters, however, staged a brilliant comeback in the fourth quarter as South's guns were almost silenced. The Warriors could only account for one field goal and a pair of fouls in the final eight minutes, but the lone fielder was the margin of victory.

East Liverpool led with 2:24 remaining in the third quarter when Roy White hit to push South in front, 37-36. Tensley dropped in two quick fielders and the Warriors took a 41-36 lead into the fourth period.

The Potters got back into the game when Gary "Huck" Steffen converted two fouls and a field goal to bring his team whithin one point, 41-40, with 6:04 left in the contest.

DAVE HARRIEL, Potter center, tipped in a two-pointer with 4:18 to go and the Potters went out in front 42-41.

Tensley, who was the real thorn in the Potters' side, made two foul attempts and South took the lead, 43-42, with two minutes showing.

Jack Deshler, who went on to take scoring honors for the evening, drilled in a one-hander and the lead see-sawed in favor of the Potters, 44-43, with only 1:37 showing on the clock.

With 1:09 left, Steffen took a long pass and was heading for the bucket. South's Ron Johnson came streaking up behind the Potter guard. Steffen stopped quickly to fake, jerked his head back and Johnson fouled him.

Time was called when Steffen suffered a slight cut on the head. Steffen missed his free throw and South gained control of the ball. Tensley's fielder under the bucket ended the game.

DESHLER paced East Liverpool again with 15 points on seven long field goals and one foul. Steffen turned in probably his top performance for the Potters Saturday night by hooping 14 points on clever driving layups. He accounted for East Liverpool's first six points.

Harriel was next in line with nine points, while Dean Cline added four. Cline failed to score in the second half, however. The fifth starter, Prentice, could contribute only one tip-in to the attack.

An all-court press set up by South bothered the Potters and sent passes sailing out of bounds and into their opponents' hands throughout the game.

East Liverpool also suffered badly under the boards, being out-rebounded time after time. South had 15 more shots than the Potters.

The deciding edge of Saturday's game came at the foul line. Both teams had 20 fielders, but South had one more foul.

The Blue and White ended with the better shooting percentage, 37 to 29.

South was paced by Tensley and Johnson with 13 each, while Jimmy Jones fired in 10.

OSU, Miss. State Rule Unbeaten Roost

W.Va. Halts Villanova's String At 13

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State and Mississippi State ruled the roost today as the only two undefeated major college basketball teams in the country—but there may be trouble ahead for the Bulldogs from the Southeastern Conference.

Ohio State (11-0) has only one game on tap this week, against Michigan on Saturday. Mississippi State (10-0), the defending Southeastern champions, entertains Alabama Tuesday night and that should be no problem.

But on Saturday, State runs up against Vanderbilt on the Commodores' court and that's giving Coach Babe McCarthy and his crew some uneasy moments.

Vandy has only a 6-5 record, but around the conference Mississippi State is known as a pretty soft touch for the northern division teams in their own lair. Vanderbilt is in the northern division and, despite its mediocre record, has hopes of winning the title.

The Bulldogs, a tight defensive outfit, polished off Auburn, 51-48, Saturday night for No. 10, while Ohio State, No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, opened defense of its Big Ten title by sailing past Northwestern, 85-62.

The Buckeyes can look to the future with a lot more confidence than Mississippi State. They didn't lose a game last season until they bumped against Cincinnati in the final of the NCAA tournament.

Cincinnati (11-1) has a big one on tap Wednesday night against Bradley, its top rival for the Missouri Valley Conference title. Bradley (8-2) is rolling with seven straight victories including last Saturday's 70-63 decision over Wichita, the only team that has beaten Cincinnati. The Bearcats meanwhile steamrolled Tulsa, 72-43.

Vanderbilt warms up to its task against Mississippi State tonight when it meets Kentucky, No. 3 in the AP poll behind Ohio State and Cincinnati. Adolph Rupp's Wildcats (10-1) downed Georgia Tech Saturday, 89-70.

There were at least three other major upsets Saturday. In the biggest, Villanova, after running up a string of 13 victories without a defeat, fell before West Virginia, 88-82. Bob Thorn hit 29 points for the winners.

Kansas State (10-2), fourth-ranked in the country, and Duke (9-2), eight-rated, also toppled. Colorado, which made good on 25 of 27 free throws, took the measure of K-State, 75-62, while North Carolina State nipped the Blue Devils, 61-60, on John Punger's last-second field goal.

Southern California (11-2), the class of the West Coast, cemented its No. 6 spot with a 79-52 victory over California. Duquesne (9-1), ranked No. 7, trounced St. Bonaventure, 73-52, while Bowling Green (10-2) No. 10, barely squeezed past Ohio University, 62-60, in a Mid-America Conference game.

EAST PALESTINE — Since 6-foot-4 Fred Hoaglin has returned to the East Palestine lineup the Bulldogs have knocked off two straight Tri-County League opponents.

The latest was an overtime victory before a standing room crowd here Saturday when East Palestine edged Columbiana, 54-52.

The Bulldogs now have a 3-0 record in league play but face unbeaten Poland in a crucial Tri-County tilt Friday at East Palestine.

With about one minute remaining in the regulation game, Bob Chaplow tied the score at 48-48 to send the contest into overtime.

Chaplow, and Lyle Jenkins each registered buckets in the overtime and Dave Guy tallied a pair of fouls to spark Chick McBride's squad in the overtime.

Hoaglin led the Bulldog scoring with 14 points but Chaplow and Jenkins were right behind with 13 each.

Columbiana now 5-2 overall, was led by Ken Gallagher who poured in 24 points to take game honors.

Columbiana captured the reserve contest, 42-36.

Expansion Of AFL On For Future

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Owners of the American Football League were reported expansion minded for the future but not for the present as they gathered for their annual meeting today.

Adding other cities to the league's present eight teams was expected to be discussed as a matter that might be brought about in a couple of years. Such cities as Seattle, Portland, Ore., Cincinnati, Atlanta and Nashville have been mentioned as prospects.

The owners also are expected to discuss, without immediate action, the high prices being paid to outstanding college stars in draft competition with the National Football League.

Wally Lemm, coach of the Houston Oilers, has advised both leagues to get together on a common draft agreement. He called the present levels of competition "the only really disturbing feature about pro football at the moment."

AFL Westerners On Top Also

Penn State's Hall Leads Western Draftees To Win

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's not very often that the professional football scouts miss a good prospect, but maybe they would do well today to re-examine the case of Galen Hall.

Hall, a balding senior at Penn State, stands only 5-feet-9 and weighs 190. Standing behind a mountainous pro line, or facing incoming pro linemen poses a problem for a man of his dimension, so no one in either the American or National Football League drafted him.

Size meant nothing Sunday when Hall passed for three touchdowns in leading a group of the NFL's Western Conference draftees to a 33-19 victory over some chosen by the Eastern Conference in the U.S. bowl.

The pros made no mistakes in Ohio State's All-America fullback Bob Ferguson. Hall passed for his team's only touchdown as a group of West All-Stars played a team of East All-Stars to a 7-7 tie in Honolulu. Ferguson's spectacular 72-yard run got the East's only score.

The AFL's Western Division stars won that loop's first Pro Bowl, trouncing the Eastern Division 47-27 behind the passing of quarterback Cotton Davidson of the Dallas Cowboys, and the running of Abner Haynes, his Texan teammate.

Hall, who led Penn State to a Gator Bowl victory over Georgia Tech, passed 44 yards to Bobby Lee Thompson of Arizona, 16 to Steve Stonebraker of Detroit and 4 to Boston U's Karl Kaimer. He completed 28 of 49 passes for 338 yards, more than the East was able to gain over-all.

Navy's Greg Mather, a low draft choice of the New York Giants, kicked field goals of 40 and 41 yards for the losers. Leroy Jackson of Southern Illinois and Bobby Jackson of New Mexico State also scored for the East.

Miami's Jim Vollenweider also tallied twice for the West, once on a 2-yard plunge and on a fumble recovery in the end zone when Thompson fumbled Hall's pass for an apparent TD.

After the day's only touchdowns were scored within a 2½ minute span of the first period in Honolulu, sloppy play became the order of the day. A total of 10 passes were intercepted, three on quarterback Roman Gabriel of the East.

Hall's TD pass came off a fake field goal by UCLA's Bobby Smith, and three plays later Ferguson ran for the East's score. Lance Alwroth, like Hall heading for San Diego of the AFL, was chosen the game's most valuable back.

Davidson came off the bench and threw three touchdown passes for coach Sid Gillman's All-Stars, and Haynes ran for two more, one of 66 yards. George Blanda threw a pair of TD passes for the East stars, and New York's Al Dorow added another.

United Drops Third Game

CANFIELD — United dropped behind early and never got back on its feet in dropping a 74-46 decision to Canfield here Saturday night.

The loss was United's third against four wins.

United trailed 16-5 at the first quarter poll and was behind by 36-15 at halftime.

Bob Dove's 19 points sparked the winners but United's Jerry Schaffer took honors for the evening with 22.

The Canfield reserves won, 72-38.

Kress Scores 25 In 8th Straight For Crestview

Big Jim Kress continued his torrid scoring pace by flipping in 25 points in a 69-46 victory for Crestview over McDonald Saturday night on the winners floor.

The win pushed Crestview's record to 8-0 for the season and left the Rebels as one of three teams undefeated in the district.

Three other starters finished in the double figures for Crestview including Lee Heaton with 14 while Ray Brown and Al Coburn garnered 11 each.

Crestview will attempt to stretch its unbeaten string to 10 over the weekend entertaining Lordstown Friday night then traveling to Mineral Ridge Saturday.

Expansion Of AFL On For Future

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Owners of the American Football League were reported expansion minded for the future but not for the present as they gathered for their annual meeting today.

Adding other cities to the league's present eight teams was expected to be discussed as a matter that might be brought about in a couple of years. Such cities as Seattle, Portland, Ore., Cincinnati, Atlanta and Nashville have been mentioned as prospects.

The owners also are expected to discuss, without immediate action, the high prices being paid to outstanding college stars in draft competition with the National Football League.

Wally Lemm, coach of the Houston Oilers, has advised both leagues to get together on a common draft agreement. He called the present levels of competition "the only really disturbing feature about pro football at the moment."

Penn State's Hall Leads Western Draftees To Win

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's not very often that the professional football scouts miss a good prospect, but maybe they would do well today to re-examine the case of Galen Hall.

Hall, a balding senior at Penn State, stands only 5-feet-9 and weighs 190. Standing behind a mountainous pro line, or facing incoming pro linemen poses a problem for a man of his dimension, so no one in either the American or National Football League drafted him.

Size meant nothing Sunday when Hall passed for three touchdowns in leading a group of the NFL's Western Conference draftees to a 33-19 victory over some chosen by the Eastern Conference in the U.S. bowl.

The pros made no mistakes in Ohio State's All-America fullback Bob Ferguson. Hall passed for his team's only touchdown as a group of West All-Stars played a team of East All-Stars to a 7-7 tie in Honolulu. Ferguson's spectacular 72-yard run got the East's only score.

The AFL's Western Division stars won that loop's first Pro Bowl, trouncing the Eastern Division 47-27 behind the passing of quarterback Cotton Davidson of the Dallas Cowboys, and the running of Abner Haynes, his Texan teammate.

Hall, who led Penn State to a Gator Bowl victory over Georgia Tech, passed 44 yards to Bobby Lee Thompson of Arizona, 16 to Steve Stonebraker of Detroit and 4 to Boston U's Karl Kaimer. He completed 28 of 49 passes for 338 yards, more than the East was able to gain over-all.

Navy's Greg Mather, a low draft choice of the New York Giants, kicked field goals of 40 and 41 yards for the losers. Leroy Jackson of Southern Illinois and Bobby Jackson of New Mexico State also scored for the East.

Miami's Jim Vollenweider also tallied twice for the West, once on a 2-yard plunge and on a fumble recovery in the end zone when Thompson fumbled Hall's pass for an apparent TD.

After the day's only touchdowns were scored within a 2½ minute span of the first period in Honolulu, sloppy play became the order of the day. A total of 10 passes were intercepted, three on quarterback Roman Gabriel of the East.

Hall's TD pass came off a fake field goal by UCLA's Bobby Smith, and three plays later Ferguson ran for the East's score. Lance Alwroth, like Hall heading for San Diego of the AFL, was chosen the game's most valuable back.

Davidson came off the bench and threw three touchdown passes for coach Sid Gillman's All-Stars, and Haynes ran for two more, one of 66 yards. George Blanda threw a pair of TD passes for the East stars, and New York's Al Dorow added another.

United Drops Third Game

CANFIELD — United dropped behind early and never got back on its feet in dropping a 74-46 decision to Canfield here Saturday night.

The loss was United's third against four wins.

United trailed 16-5 at the first quarter poll and was behind by 36-15 at halftime.

Bob Dove's 19 points sparked the winners but United's Jerry Schaffer took honors for the evening with 22.

The Canfield reserves won, 72-38.

Kress Scores 25 In 8th Straight For Crestview

Big Jim Kress continued his torrid scoring pace by flipping in 25 points in a 69-46 victory for Crestview over McDonald Saturday night on the winners floor.

The win pushed Crestview's record to 8-0 for the season and left the Rebels as one of three teams undefeated in the district.

Three other starters finished in the double figures for Crestview including Lee Heaton with 14 while Ray Brown and Al Coburn garnered 11 each.

Crestview will attempt to stretch its unbeaten string to 10 over the weekend entertaining Lordstown Friday night then traveling to Mineral Ridge Saturday.

Barnett Puts Pipers Only ½-Game Away

By The Associated Press

It's pretty obvious now why the Cleveland Pipers of the American Basketball League wanted Dick Barnett badly enough to go to court and risk expensive legal fees to keep his services.

Since Barnett was allowed to remain the property of the Pipers by the Syracuse team of the National Basketball Association, for whom he played the last two years, Cleveland has come on to nudge within a half game of the league's Eastern Division lead.

Barnett scored 37 points Sunday as the Pipers defeated San Francisco 140-107. They trail the division-leading Pittsburgh Rens by a half game.

In the other league contest Sunday Kansas City defeated the New York Tapers 100-90. Larry Staverman, with 23 points, and Bill Bridges, with 22, paced Kansas City, which extended its lead in the Western Division to 4½ games over second place Los Angeles.

Gambling Problem, AAU To Head NCAA Convention Opening Today

CHICAGO (AP) — The gambling menace to intercollegiate athletics and the battle for power between the NCAA and the AAU will feature the National Collegiate Athletic Association convention which opens today.

The squabble between the NCAA and the Amateur Athletic Union centers about the NCAA's desire for authority in selection and administration of United States functions in international competition.

Resignation and retirement of several key AAU executives in recent months indicate a possible compromise between the two groups.

On the matter of gambling which has resulted in two major basketball scandals, officers of four national athletic administrative and coaches organization have recommended a 16-point program to combat the menace to intercollegiate athletics.

Major proposals of the program include barring outside basketball competition; a rule to prevent an athlete from varsity competition until he has been in residence in the school two years if he decides to transfer after registering at one institution; urging members to conduct athletic competition on campus grounds and in campus buildings or maintaining complete control and supervision when other facilities must be used.

Among other legislative proposals to be considered during the week will be revision in NCAA rules committee structure to provide authority to reverse the result of disputed contests such as Notre Dame's 17-15 football victory over Syracuse and expansion of NCAA championships with the addition of national college division events in track and field, wrestling, golf and tennis.

Lisbon Tops Leetonia Five

Lisbon High scored its fourth victory of the season Saturday night in edging Leetonia, 38-37, in a nip and tuck Tri-County League battle on the Lisbon court.

The lead changed hands often and never more than three to five points separated the squads at any time of the game. The score was tied 10 times.

The Blue Devils tallied in the closing seconds to forge ahead, 38-37, and won as a trick out-of-bounds play by Leetonia failed to produce a field goal.

Lisbon gained the edge at the foul stripe as the Blue Devils were outgoaled by two from the field, 16-14.

The winners made 10 of 18 foul shots while Leetonia made five of 15. That was the different in a tight game.

McPherson led Lisbon's attack with 10 points, while Henry and Craig Pannier each tallied nine.

Jay Holloway of Leetonia led all scorers with 13 points, while Henry Nementz netted 10 for the Bears.

In the preliminary, the Lisbon reserves posted a 57-21 victory over the Leetonia reserves.

Pilot Pancakes Plane, Plans No Retirement At 80

AMITYVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — William S. Read doesn't believe a man should clip his wings at any age.

He learned to fly an airplane five years ago—just for the fun of it. A real estate broker, he also uses the single-engine Cessna to fly prospective clients over likely bits of Long Island land.

When the weather cleared Sunday Read took a friend, Vincenzo Sesti Jr., 34, of Huntington, out for a pleasure spin.

After a leisurely ride Read headed homeward. Suddenly he realized he was coming in too low, right above some power lines.

"I saw those power lines ahead of me," he said. "I revved up the motor, but for some reason it didn't take. I didn't want to knock out those power lines. It would have caused a lot of trouble. I could have landed in a yard, but then I saw a street, and I set it down good."

Read pancaked the plane in. The craft wound up with damage to the wing tips and undercarriage—but Read and his passenger walked away without a scratch.

Does Read intend to stop flying?

"Oh, no!" he exclaimed. "The idea! Of course I'll keep flying."

Read is 80 years old.

Board Waits Session

LISBON — The village Board of Education will meet Tuesday night at 7:30, with a number of matters awaiting discussion, according to Supt. Russell C. Armitage. The board will discuss sale of a $350,000 bond issue to finance an addition at McKinley School and resubmission of a 16-mill operating levy at the May primaries.

NFL Studies TV Contract

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A $9 million plus television contract will be the main topic when the National Football League opens its annual meetings today under Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

The final details of the new TV contract still are being worked out. It will be a package deal with a single network (CBS) for exclusive rights to all regular season games for two years at about $4,650,000 a year. Each of the 14 clubs will share equally. Each will get about $320,000.

Congressional action paved the way for single network contracts by pro football, baseball, basketball and hockey leagues last summer after a federal judge ruled an earlier contract violated antitrust laws.

The league also will consider a proposal to increase the player limit from 36 to 38 as it was before the Minnesota Vikings franchise was activated last season. Most of the coaches favor the increase but there is some opposition among the owners.

A delegation from the Hall of Fame, to be dedicated at Canton, Ohio in 1963, is expected to make a progress report.

Celtics Easily Trip LA Lakers Without Russell

By The Associated Press

How much of a difference does Elgin Baylor make to the Los Angeles Lakers now that he is on duty with the U.S. Army?

A lot more than does the absence of Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics. This was proven Sunday when Russell, having scored only three points, fouled out midway in the third period of a game between the two National Basketball Association clubs and still the Celts won easily, 118-95.

Boston was ahead of the Baylor-less Lakers 73-59 at the time, but Los Angeles never got closer than 10 points.

Elsewhere, veteran Larry Foust helped the St. Louis Hawks to a 137-112 victory over Philadelphia, the Cincinnati Royals won over Chicago 123-113 at Louisville and the Syracuse Nats beat New York 123-116.

Wilt Chamberlain scored 55 points for the Warriors but Foust, replacing injured Clyde Lovellette, scored 28 points for St. Louis.

The Royals, nine games behind Los Angeles in the Western Division, had to stave off a last minute bid by Chicago, whose Walt Bellamy led all scorers with 44 points.

Syracuse, red hot despite the loss of scoring leader Dolph Schayes, won its fifth game in the last six. The Nats outscored the Knicks 31-23 in the final period for the victory.

Plum, Lemek Join East For Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cleveland quarterback Milt Plum and Washington offensive tackle Ray Lemek will join the East team for Sunday's Pro Bowl All Star game here.

They were named Sunday to replace Philadelphia's Sonny Jurgensen and J. D. Smith, both hurt in their team's playoff bowl loss to Detroit Saturday.

Norway is closer to the North Pole than Sweden or Finland.

Wide Open Battle Seen In Finals Of LA Open

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 36th chapter of the Los Angeles Open reached the showdown stage today with a wide open struggle in prospect for the winning share of the $45,000 purse.

Three previously unheralded professional golfers dominated the picture for the final 18 holes and the $7,500 top money.

They were Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., and cocky young Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif. — deadlocked for the lead with 54-hole scores of 206 — and hefty Lionel Hebert, former national PGA champion and brother of Lionel was one stroke back of the co-leaders.

Still finding the professional tournament jungle a rough place was 21-year-old Jack Nicklaus, who relinquished his national amateur crown for a crack at the play-for-money ranks.

Nicklaus, while not discouraged, made the final 18 holes with scores of 74-70-72—216. It took 218 to qualify for today's final round.

Tournament officials announced there would be a sudden death playoff in the event of a tie.

Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, was well down in the standings with a third-round total of 71-68-75—214.

The leaders included:
Fred Hawkins, 68-70-68—206

Man's Scalp Cut During City Fight

Thomas Potts, 44, of Carolina Ave., Chester, suffered a three-quarter-inch cut of the scalp and contusions of the jaw in a fight about 3 a. m. Sunday in front of the New York Restaurant on the Diamond, police reported.

Officers identified Potts' assailant as an E. 2nd St. man, but said no charges were filed pending the outcome of the Chester man's injuries.

Patrolmen L. E. Richard and Samuel E. Hayes said they found Potts unconscious and seated in a chair at the restaurant when they were sent to investigate a fight on the sidewalk. A waitress identified Potts' assailant, officers said.

The assailant attempted to run away, but he was caught in Diamond Alley by Officer Richard and Patrolman Paul E. Carter, police said. Potts was taken to City Hospital in a cruiser.

He was admitted to the hospital for a brief time and then released.

Only 2 Hurt As Train Rams Car At Chardon

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Carl V. Reed, 30, were reported in fair condition at Geauga Community Hospital, recovering from injuries received when a slow - moving freight train hit a station wagon being driven by Mrs. Reed.

Six children were in the vehicle with Mrs. Reed Sunday when the train hit them at the unmarked Park Street crossing.

Hospitalized were Jonette Reed, 11 months, with face cuts and lacerations, and Ardith, 10, head and body cuts.

Barnett Puts Pipers Only ½-Game Away

By The Associated Press

It's pretty obvious now why the Cleveland Pipers of the American Basketball League wanted Dick Barnett badly enough to go to court and risk expensive legal fees to keep his services.

Since Barnett was allowed to remain the property of the Pipers by the Syracuse team of the National Basketball Association, for whom he played the last two years, Cleveland has come on to nudge within a half game of the league's Eastern Division lead.

Barnett scored 37 points Sunday as the Pipers defeated San Francisco 140-107. They trail the division-leading Pittsburgh Rens by a half game.

In the other league contest Sunday Kansas City defeated the New York Tapers 100-90. Larry Staverman, with 23 points, and Bill Bridges, with 22, paced Kansas City, which extended its lead in the Western Division to 4½ games over second place Los Angeles.

Gambling Problem, AAU To Head NCAA Convention Opening Today

CHICAGO (AP) — The gambling menace to intercollegiate athletics and the battle for power between the NCAA and the AAU will feature the National Collegiate Athletic Association convention which opens today.

The squabble between the NCAA and the Amateur Athletic Union centers about the NCAA's desire for authority in selection and administration of United States functions in international competition.

Resignation and retirement of several key AAU executives in recent months indicate a possible compromise between the two groups.

On the matter of gambling which has resulted in two major basketball scandals, officers of four national athletic administrative and coaches organization have recommended a 16-point program to combat the menace to intercollegiate athletics.

Major proposals of the program include barring outside basketball competition; a rule to prevent an athlete from varsity competition until he has been in residence in the school two years if he decides to transfer after registering at one institution; urging members to conduct athletic competition on campus grounds and in campus buildings or maintaining complete control and supervision when other facilities must be used.

Among other legislative proposals to be considered during the week will be revision in NCAA rules committee structure to provide authority to reverse the result of disputed contests such as Notre Dame's 17-15 football victory over Syracuse and expansion of NCAA championships with the addition of national college division events in track and field, wrestling, golf and tennis.

Lisbon Tops Leetonia Five

Lisbon High scored its fourth victory of the season Saturday night in edging Leetonia, 38-37, in a nip and tuck Tri-County League battle on the Lisbon court.

The lead changed hands often and never more than three to five points separated the squads at any time of the game. The score was tied 10 times.

The Blue Devils tallied in the closing seconds to forge ahead, 38-37, and won as a trick out-of-bounds play by Leetonia failed to produce a field goal.

Lisbon gained the edge at the foul stripe as the Blue Devils were outgoaled by two from the field, 16-14.

The winners made 10 of 18 foul shots while Leetonia made five of 15. That was the different in a tight game.

McPherson led Lisbon's attack with 10 points, while Henry and Craig Pannier each tallied nine.

Jay Holloway of Leetonia led all scorers with 13 points, while Henry Nementz netted 10 for the Bears.

In the preliminary, the Lisbon reserves posted a 57-21 victory over the Leetonia reserves.

NFL Studies TV Contract

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A $9 million plus television contract will be the main topic when the National Football League opens its annual meetings today under Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

The final details of the new TV contract still are being worked out. It will be a package deal with a single network (CBS) for exclusive rights to all regular season games for two years at about $4,650,000 a year. Each of the 14 clubs will share equally. Each will get about $320,000.

Congressional action paved the way for single network contracts by pro football, baseball, basketball and hockey leagues last summer after a federal judge ruled an earlier contract violated antitrust laws.

The league also will consider a proposal to increase the player limit from 36 to 38 as it was before the Minnesota Vikings franchise was activated last season. Most of the coaches favor the increase but there is some opposition among the owners.

A delegation from the Hall of Fame, to be dedicated at Canton, Ohio in 1963, is expected to make a progress report.

Celtics Easily Trip LA Lakers Without Russell

By The Associated Press

How much of a difference does Elgin Baylor make to the Los Angeles Lakers now that he is on duty with the U.S. Army?

A lot more than does the absence of Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics. This was proven Sunday when Russell, having scored only three points, fouled out midway in the third period of a game between the two National Basketball Association clubs and still the Celts won easily, 118-95.

Boston was ahead of the Baylor-less Lakers 73-59 at the time, but Los Angeles never got closer than 10 points.

Elsewhere, veteran Larry Foust helped the St. Louis Hawks to a 137-112 victory over Philadelphia, the Cincinnati Royals won over Chicago 123-113 at Louisville and the Syracuse Nats beat New York 123-116.

Wilt Chamberlain scored 55 points for the Warriors but Foust, replacing injured Clyde Lovellette, scored 28 points for St. Louis.

The Royals, nine games behind Los Angeles in the Western Division, had to stave off a last minute bid by Chicago, whose Walt Bellamy led all scorers with 44 points.

Syracuse, red hot despite the loss of scoring leader Dolph Schayes, won its fifth game in the last six. The Nats outscored the Knicks 31-23 in the final period for the victory.

Plum, Lemek Join East For Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cleveland quarterback Milt Plum and Washington offensive tackle Ray Lemek will join the East team for Sunday's Pro Bowl All Star game here.

They were named Sunday to replace Philadelphia's Sonny Jurgensen and J. D. Smith, both hurt in their team's playoff bowl loss to Detroit Saturday.

Norway is closer to the North Pole than Sweden or Finland.

Pilot Pancakes Plane, Plans No Retirement At 80

AMITYVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — William S. Read doesn't believe a man should clip his wings at any age.

He learned to fly an airplane five years ago—just for the fun of it. A real estate broker, he also uses the single-engine Cessna to fly prospective clients over likely bits of Long Island land.

When the weather cleared Sunday Read took a friend, Vincenzo Sesti Jr., 34, of Huntington, out for a pleasure spin.

After a leisurely ride Read headed homeward. Suddenly he realized he was coming in too low, right above some power lines.

"I saw those power lines ahead of me," he said. "I revved up the motor, but for some reason it didn't take. I didn't want to knock out those power lines. It would have caused a lot of trouble. I could have landed in a yard, but then I saw a street, and I set it down good."

Read pancaked the plane in. The craft wound up with damage to the wing tips and undercarriage—but Read and his passenger walked away without a scratch.

Does Read intend to stop flying?

"Oh, no!" he exclaimed. "The idea! Of course I'll keep flying."

Read is 80 years old.

Wide Open Battle Seen In Finals Of LA Open

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 36th chapter of the Los Angeles Open reached the showdown stage today with a wide open struggle in prospect for the winning share of the $45,000 purse.

Three previously unheralded professional golfers dominated the picture for the final 18 holes and the $7,500 top money.

They were Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., and cocky young Phil Rodgers of La Jolla, Calif. — deadlocked for the lead with 54-hole scores of 206 — and hefty Lionel Hebert, former national PGA champion and brother of Lionel was one stroke back of the co-leaders.

Alone at 208 was formidable Bob Goalby, winner of the 1961 Los Angeles Open and the leader this year through the first two rounds.

Further back and virtually out of the winner's circle were such name players as U.S. Open champion Gene Littler (212), and the big money winners in golf last year, Arnold Palmer (214) and Gary Player (217).

Still finding the professional tournament jungle a rough place was 21-year-old Jack Nicklaus, who relinquished his national amateur crown for a crack at the play-for-money ranks.

Nicklaus, while not discouraged, made the final 18 holes with scores of 74-70-72—216. It took 218 to qualify for today's final round.

Tournament officials announced there would be a sudden death playoff in the event of a tie.

Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, was well down in the standings with a third-round total of 71-68-75—214.

The leaders included:
Fred Hawkins, 68-70-68—206
Phil Rodgers, 67-71-68—206
Lionel Hebert, 68-71-68—207
Bob Goalby, 64-71-73—208
Tony Lema, 70-66-73—209
Tommy Jacobs, 67-70-73—210
Jack Burke Jr., 72-68-70—210
Mike Souchak, 73-72-65—210
Doug Sanders, 67-73-70—210
Julius Boros, 69-71-70—210
Bobby Nichols, 72-68-70—210.

Man's Scalp Cut During City Fight

Thomas Potts, 44, of Carolina Ave., Chester, suffered a three-quarter-inch cut of the scalp and contusions of the jaw in a fight about 3 a. m. Sunday in front of the New York Restaurant on the Diamond, police reported.

Officers identified Potts' assailant as an E. 2nd St. man, but said no charges were filed pending the outcome of the Chester man's injuries.

Patrolmen L. E. Richard and Samuel E. Hayes said they found Potts unconscious and seated in a chair at the restaurant when they were sent to investigate a fight on the sidewalk. A waitress identified Potts' assailant, officers said.

The assailant attempted to run away, but he was caught in Diamond Alley by Officer Richard and Patrolman Paul E. Carter, police said. Potts was taken to City Hospital in a cruiser.

He was admitted to the hospital for a brief time and then released.

Only 2 Hurt As Train Rams Car At Chardon

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) — Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Carl V. Reed, 30, were reported in fair condition at Geauga Community Hospital, recovering from injuries received when a slow - moving freight train hit a station wagon being driven by Mrs. Reed.

Six children were in the vehicle with Mrs. Reed Sunday when the train hit them at the unmarked Park Street crossing.

Hospitalized were Jonette Reed, 11 months, with face cuts and lacerations, and Ardith, 10, head and body cuts.

QUESTION: After squirrels hide their nuts, how do they find them again under the snow?

ANSWER: Squirrels are among the most common animals in the United States. Chances are you have seen them in the park or in the woods, scurrying about with newly found nuts in their mouths.

Thrifty animals, they spend much of their time during the fall looking for nuts and hiding them so that they will have something to eat during the winter.

It is doubtful if a squirrel finds the same nuts in the winter that he has hidden away in the fall. But so many squirrels have hidden nuts that a hungry squirrel is sure to find one when he needs it.

There is one squirrel, however, that does not store up nuts for the winter. This playboy of the squirrel world is called the "kaibab." Kaibabs get very hungry in the winter.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. What is the best way to wash corduroy?

A. Use lukewarm water and suds, lifting the garment up and down in the water. Rub badly soiled parts with a soft brush. Rinse in clear water, and hang up without squeezing or wringing out the water. Shake occasionally while drying. When thoroughly dry, raise the nap by stroking with a soft brush in the same direction as the ribs run. An automatic dryer is ideal for corduroy, since it fluffs up the nap as it dries.

Shotgun Claims Second In Ohio Family In 4 Days

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Two members of an Ohio family have died of shotgun wounds in the last four days.

John Layman Jr., 24, was found Sunday with a fatal wound in his heart inside the home in Green Twp. where he was living with his parents. A 16-gauge shotgun and note were nearby.

The parents were in South Point, near Ironton in Lawrence County, attending the funeral of Mrs. Eva Layman, 54, who was killed by a shotgun blast Thursday night.

A family friend said John Layman was crying when he telephoned him Sunday morning. Layman did not say what was wrong. The friend, John Taucher, told deputies he drove to the house and heard a shot as he arrived.

The coroner ruled John Layman's death a suicide.

Lawrence County authorities said Eva Layman was shot in a quarrel with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Sarah Layman, 34. She has been charged with first - degree murder.

John Layman was a nephew of the dead woman.

Dissenters Pick New Union Slate

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A group of dissenters has endorsed a slate to oppose Frank P. Converse and other high officers of the statewide Operating Engineers Union Local 18 in an election in June.

The opposition slate is said to be the first Converse, 74, will face since he became union president in 1917. Three years ago he stepped out as president but kept his present title of general business manager.

Melvin Jackfert, one of the administration foes, said all the new candidates are in good standing, and an alternate slate was chosen as a safeguard. No reason was given for the move.

W. C. Brewer of Dayton was selected to oppose Converse. William Schimman of Toledo will oppose John Possehl for president. Mark Nassett of Toledo will run for vice president and Vince Klear, also of Toledo, for treasurer.

The dissidents chose F. D. Mconas of Springfield permanent chairman and coordinator. Jackfert was named secretary.

Converse led an amalgamation of all operating engineers in the state in 1919. It was that move which pushed Local 18's membership from 3,000 to 13,000.

The Temple of Diana at Ephesus, 35 miles from Izmir, Turkey, was one of the seven wonders of the world.

Metal Valued At $175 Stolen At Scrap Yard

Some $100 worth of copper wire and about $75 worth of brass pipe, along with $2 in change, were stolen by thieves from Caplan's Scrap Yard on the River Rd. over the weekend after they apparently scaled the high fence that surrounds the property, police reported.

The loot included 300 to 400 pounds of heavy gauge copper wire in bundles of 50 to 75 pounds and about 75 pounds of brass pipe. The pipe was about 15 to 20 inches long and 6 to 8 inches in diameter, Sam Caplan told police.

The loss first was believed confined to $2 in change taken from the office, but Caplan notified police of the other missing items after checking the storage area. Police said the thieves apparently climbed the fence that surrounds the yard and then broke a 20-x-30-inch window to gain entrance to the office.

Grange To Meet

LISBON — First and second degrees will be exemplified at a meeting of Mt. Nebo Grange Wednesday night at 8. The program theme, "Peace," will include an original play, a poem, an essay and songs. Members will take sandwiches for lunch. Charles L. Morlan is master.
